Tax Collector Is Steeled for Deluge

EASY COME, EASY GO is not philosophy of this taxpayer. Harry Sachs (right), 2 N. William st., Mount Prospect, hands William Annen, Wheeling township tax collector, second installment on his 1958 taxes. "Oh, it's not too bad," says Sachs. "We were paying $32 a month for taxes in Chicago, and we like it better out here."

"There's two things we can be sure of . . . " Well, you know how the saying goes.

The undertaker and tax collector will always have their jobs, and, like the former, the latter has his ups and downs.

WHEELING TOWNSHIP Tax Collector William Annen will be rising from his chair and opening the front door with increasing frequency as the September deadline for payment of real estate taxes approaches. That is the final day township residents may pay the second installment on their 1958 property taxes.

Annen, who will celebrate his 30th year in office next January, claims to be the subject of considerable abuse as deadlines approach.

"This time of year it's not so bad," he says. "When people get their April bills, that's when things start hopping."

ANNEN CLAIMS never to have been man-handled physically, but oh, those telephone calls! He still recalls, with a start, a call he received two years ago.

"Boy, that fellow was really hot. He pounded my ear for a half hour, but he never told me his name," Annen said.

According to the tax collector, the most common question asked is:

"When are taxes going to level off? With the number of homes being built, you'd think they'd have enough."

ACTUALLY, SAYS Annen, the taxes in Wheeling township are probably as high as any in the county. The tax rate in most of the lake shore communities is 20 per cent less, because these are older, more established towns and already have schools and improvements.

Annen lives at 922 Highland, Arlington Heights, and recalls that the taxes on his home were $75 a year when he moved in back in 1942. Today, he says, they are $324.

"A lot of my 'customers' forget that I have to pay taxes, too. Only, I can't take it out on anyone," he said.

Family Service Fund Chief Named

Frank E. Hodek Jr., 2205 W. Banbury rd., Inverness, has been named chairman of the Northwest Family Service association's fund drive, scheduled for launching late in September.

Hodek has been active in civic affairs for the past 20 years. Last year he was appointed by Gov. Stratton to serve as a member of the Northeastern Illinois metropolitan area planning commission, and has, for the past 15 years, been first vice-president in charge of construction for the Illinois Masonic hospital.

PRIOR TO MOVING to Inverness early in 1957, Hodek was president of the Riverside-Brookfield township high school board for 15 years, and led Riverside Red Cross and Community Fund drives. He has also been active in the Illinois Crippled Children's Hospital and School.

Details of the campaign are now being formulated.

Village Takes Over Palatine Road Upkeep

Village board Tuesday night agreed to take over the maintenance of Palatine rd. within the village limits and to prohibit parking along the thoroughfare.

Resolutions came as a result of proposed widening of the road in connection with the development of the Hasbrook subdivision. Cook county highway department requires as a condition for issuing a permit for widening construction that the village agree to maintain the area and prohibit parking.

Maintenance shall consist of general repairs, patching, snow removal, ice control, weed control, and sweeping.

Elm-Oakton Walks Controversy Ended

Citizens Drop Suit

Controversy over sidewalks in the Elm-Oakton area appeared dead this week when the "holdout" committee unanimously voted to drop their law-suit and voluntarily install sidewalks.

ALTHOUGH THE group, comprised of property owners affected by the ordinance, had previously instructed their lawyer to proceed with a suit to test the validity of the sidewalk tax imposed, estimates of the cost of installation under special taxation, released Saturday by village officials, indicated that this method would cost considerably in excess of $100 extra per property owner.

In addition, although the group's legal expenses had been minimal, co-chairman Wallace B. Daughtry, 715 Elm, estimated a like amount would be required to finance the continuation of the litigation to a conclusion.

Daughtry commented that "Our committee has always advocated installing sidewalks where required in the interest of public safety. However, we have demanded equal treatment for all areas where similar circumstances exist."

"THE PRESENT litigation arose through the unreasonable attitude of the board of trustees with respect to the location of the sidewalks, distribution of the cost, and lack of a published over-all plan," he added.

In addition Daughtry said "Although our sentiments remain unchanged as to this particular instance, we feel that the public interest would be served better by installing the sidewalks and removing the controversy from the courts."

Village officials welcomed the committee's conformity, but Village Attorney Stephen Jurco called the action an aftermath. "We considered the lawsuit dead last week when the judge denied a temporary injunction," the lawyer stated. "The court ruling upheld the constitutionality of ordinances, which include payment by the property owners," he contended.

THE VILLAGE'S sidewalk program has continued despite legal action against it. Village Manager J. Ward Wright predicted that walk installation would be speeded up by the committee's announcement to withdraw its suit.

"Many property owners have been waiting to see if the objectors' case would hold up in court. Calls for sidewalk installation have been coming in rapidly this week," he informed.

Wright hopes that all the sidewalks will be in before school starts this fall.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS village board pushed through two new sidewalk ordinances Monday night regarding construction of walks along Kensington rd. (Foundry rd.) from Dryden to Gibbons.

Several Stonegate residents appeared before the board, but were more concerned about the location of the sidewalks than the fact that they would have to be constructed. A meeting to discuss location has been set for August 19.

Village Engineer Toberman said tentative plans showed that south side sidewalks would be set a minimum of 11 feet from the property lines. An eight feet minimum parkway would be established with the exception of one corner where the parkway would be only six and a half feet.

It was pointed out that homes along the south side of the street are set 25 feet from the property line so they would be some 30-35 feet from the sidewalk, a desirable distance.

SIDEWALKS would be constructed on the south side of the tree line so that no major trees would have to be removed and only a few minor ones.

The north side of Kensington provides more problems because of the limited 33 feet right-of-way and the necessity of maintaining the existing drainage ditch and entrance culverts.

Building a sidewalk on the north side may require reditching and the relocation of a number of entrance culverts.

NINETEEN FLOWER GIRLS, ranging in age from nine to 14, are part of the 100-girl water ballet show being staged by the Arlington Heights park district, August 8 and 9. The show will start both days at 8:30 p.m., and will be at the Pioneer Park pool.

High School Sites Election Saturday

Officials of high school district 214 again urged voters today to cast their ballots in support of the bond issue at Saturday's special election.

The issue: the purchase of two tracts of land, totalling 106 acres, to be the future sites of two district high schools.

KENNETH E. DOUGAN, board president, in a recent letter to parents said the $359,000-bond issue would increase taxes by .0188 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This would mean an increase of $1.88 for a $25,000-home with an assessed valuation of $10,000, the letter explained.

The need for the two sites was disclosed by a survey of population increases within the district concluded last February. The survey projected the present rate of growth of 1966, and showed that facilities of the two present high schools would be exhausted by 1961.

Polling places will be open Saturday, Aug. 9, from noon to 7 p.m. Polls, by precinct, will be located at the following places:

PRECINCT: 1. Wheeling public school; 2. Wilson public school, Wheeling township; 3. Residence of Kenneth V. Williams, 1215 N. Race st., Arlington Heights; 4. Prospect Heights school; 5. Central school, Mt. Prospect; 6. Ridge school, Arlington Heights; 7. North school, Arlington Heights; 8. Miner Junior High school, Arlington Heights; 9. Dryden school, Arlington Heights; 10. Park school, Arlington Heights; 11. Westgate school, Arlington Heights; 12. Kimball Hill school, Rolling Meadows; 13. Higgins school, Elk Grove Township; 14. Rupley school, Elk Grove Village.

Confirm 13 Elm Blight Cases Here

The village's fight against Dutch Elm disease received some authoritative backing from a report from the University of Illinois this week. Of 35 reports submitted to the state, 13 were confirmed cases of Dutch elm disease.

A SURVEY made by Nels Johnson, contractor for tree trimming and removal in Arlington Heights, showed that 76 trees appeared to be possibly contaminated. Some 51 of these were on public property and 25 on private property. Samples were taken from the apparently infected area from all of these trees and sent to Urbana for analysis.

Johnson was instructed to work with the street department in removing the infected trees. Areas surrounding the trees have been carefully sprayed in accordance with accepted standards for meeting the threat.

Acting village manager J. Ward Wright believes that results indicate that the final report will show between 25 and 30 trees are infected. In addition, approximately 12 trees have already been removed. Wright considers this a major threat to the village's trees.

IN A REPORT to the village board Monday night Wright stated, "It is the unanimous opinion of accepted tree experts that the best means of preventing the wholesale destruction of elm trees is to carry out an adequate program of trimming and sanitation."

So far the village has spent a little over $21,000 over a two-year period in carrying out such a program. However, since absolutely nothing had ever been done previously to protect the trees, the two-year program has only managed to cover trees in the central part of the village, Wright pointed out.

Wright has instructed Johnson to proceed as fast as possible with a trimming program in the most heavily hit area, which in his opinion, would appear to be Scarsdale and Eastwood.

UNDER THE new budget the village has allocated $15,000 towards the battle. Some $19,000 was spent last year for trimming and removal alone.

Village board was concerned with reports that some families are storing wood from diseased elms which have been cut down. "This practice provides an excellent breeding place for disease-spreading beetles," the trustees warned. "This wood should be burned," they emphasised.

Investigate Hazardous Intersection

Arlington Heights village officials are investigating the "serious traffic problem" which exists at the intersection of N. Douglas, Kensington, and Northwest hwy.

The intersection was described last week as "hazardous" by Arlington Heights Area Traffic Safety council, which urged a full investigation of the crossing with possible recommendations for stop signs or traffic lights.

POLICE CHIEF L. W. Calderwood said a preliminary traffic count of Kensington (Foundry rd.) revealed that some 250 autos use the thorofare during a typical hour.

"The traffic problem has become more complicated since Arlington Market shopping center opened," explained the chief, who added that some kind of traffic control at the highway intersection "would be most desirable."

Arlington Heights Lions club safety committee has also been concerned about the Kensington highway traffic problem.

Two Injured In Squad Car Collision

POLICE OFFICER Maurice English and housewife Mrs. Mary Johnson, 315 N. Lincoln, were injured Friday when the squad car struck Mrs. Johnson's auto at the intersection of Vail and Fairview. English was answering an emergency call at the time of the accident.

Officer Maurice English of the Arlington Heights police and Mary Johnson, 36, of 315 N. Lincoln, Arlington Heights, were injured Friday evening in a collision at the intersection of Vail and Fairview.

English, 26, who resides at 304 Carter, Palatine, crashed into the Johnson vehicle while answering an emergency call. Mrs. Johnson was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way to an emergency vehicle.

MRS. JOHNSON suffered a cut over the right eye, an injured left arm, and bruised right ear. English hurt his left arm. Damage to the two cars was estimated at $700 each.

English reported that both the red light and siren were functioning at the time of the impact. The squad car was traveling south on Vail, while Mrs. Johnson was driving west on Fairview.

The Editor's Column

By STUART R. PADDOCK

Last week this column urged Palatine and Rolling Meadows voters to approve a $700,000 bond issue and an increase in tax rate in order to provide class room space.

Residents of the two districts voted 2-1 in favor of the bond issue which will provide an additional school at Rolling Meadows and an addition to Winston Park school.

Vote on the increased tax rate was a safe majority of 239, but it is evident that while the average voter recognizes the need for school buildings, an increase in tax rates is not popular.

Thus it behooves all school boards to watch their pennies. Because the taxpayers approve hundreds of thousands in bonds does not mean that small change should not be counted.

Why not, we asked a local resident who is asking income tax deductions based on property damages by floods. He was using our newspaper files to substantiate his claim.

We are surprised that others have not had the same thought.

It may take an auditor to interpret all of the figures in Arlington Heights appropriation ordinance published this week, but if you are not a CPA and are interested in where your municipal tax money goes, take time to read it carefully—that is why it is published.

Before you get burned up about the total dollars shown therein remember that the municipality earns the greater part of its funds. It is just switching pockets.

A municipality cannot have its pudding and eat it, too. We are refering to the street widening program at Arlington Heights that has brought about the destruction of nearly 100 fine trees.

One of the campaign pledges of the last three administrations was the widening of streets in the Arlington business section. During the past 10 years this paper has needled the officials for action.

It came and there are a lot of people who are not happy about its effect upon the beautiful trees. Neither are we.

If we love those trees, we should rally to the protection of Arlington's railroad parks that are threatened by commercialism. A contributor to the last week's Fence Post suggested that they could be worth the half a million that may be asked by the railroad company.

We do not think that condemnation action would result in such a high figure, but it is important that we act before the woodsman saw is heard in those parks.

Many old time customers of Carl J. West, tailor, 17 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, have been crying on his shoulders the past week after he tells them that he will soon close up shop.

He is the last old time tailor between Barrington and Chicago, and does not want to retire, but he needs quarters in which to ply his trade. Has anybody any ideas?

There were 155 new families moving into Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove Village during July. Members of those families numbered 562.

Those figures discourage our schools, but they represent a trading potential that should interest local businessmen.

Are there no artists among the 10,000 residents of the Village of Palatine? The village manager is still waiting for suggestions of a village seal.

The drawings can be any size and will be judged for their design and appropriateness.

There is a lot of activity going forward at the site of the Northwest Community Hospital Center on Central rd., Arlington Heights. The faster the subscriptions are paid, the sooner will that hospital be in operation.

Take the hint, folks!

Bargain Hunters Swarm Stores

With $5-gift certificates, specially reduced sale items, and an enthusiasm strangely present after a recession-wracked spring, Arlington Heights merchants assaulted buyers with their annual Dollar Day sale.

Originally scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 4 and 5, some shopping centers kicked off the sale the previous Thursday, Friday, and Saturday to take advantage of the weekend trade.

REPORTS FROM SHOPS in the Westgate shopping center showed that the early bird got the worm, with sales generally booming the first three days and then slipping off the final two.

Goldfish disappeared faster at Hornsby's variety store than they do initiation week at a college frat house. Ed Weber, store manager, gave away the fish to 1,000 youngsters accompanied by their parents.

"How'd you make money giving away goldfish?" he was asked.

"Sold over nine dozen bowls and fish food for about half of them," canny Ed replied.

MANY MERCHANTS were surprised to find staples and non-reduced stock were selling faster than those marked down for the sale.

One exception to this was the Sugar 'n' Spice childrens wear shop. Pretty Shari Ackerlund, clerking in the family store during summer vacation, reported a "very good" response to specially-priced items, but said that business last year was better.

A special feature of the Dollar Day sale was the posting of names in shop windows, the owners of such names being awarded a $5-gift certificate—if they came in on time. Each store posted 10 different names daily.

Harold Freitag, president of the Westgate businessmen's association, said Monday that so many people reported that "we ran out of certificates." (A

Public Works Staff Picnics

The 17 members of the Arlington Heights public works department and their families met for the department's annual picnic at Elk Grove forest preserve Sunday afternoon.

A buffet style ham and potato salad dinner for 60 was provided, and games, races and baseball entertained the adults as well as the children. Balloons and bottles of bubble liquor kept the children busy while the men played baseball for their own amusement and to their wives' amazement. Despite unconfirmed rumors of the usual post-game strained ligaments and aching muscles, all department members reported for work Monday morning. (A

Lutheran Church Slated For First Service in Fall

Our Saviour's Lutheran church of Arlington Heights moved a step closer to the completion of its new building Sunday when the congregation approved the spending of $44,000, final part of the $207,800 construction budget.

ITEMS TO BE purchased out of this appropriation include banquet tables, adult chairs, juvenile chairs, a gas range, a refrigerator, 200 china dish place settings, 200 stainless steel tableware settings, kitchen cabinets, landscaping and equipment for the church office and pastor's office.

In addition, $5,500 is being set aside for air cooling, $4,000 for repayment of a loan from the Illinois Synod Brotherhood, $3,500 for the first year's payment on the first mortgage, and $4,500 for the interest on the construction loan.

Chick Slepicka, chairman of the furnishings and equipment committee, has announced the placing of orders through competitive bidding. Working with Slepicka are Lou Behrle, Ken Machacek, Bill Stueber, Arnold Selan, Ken Stevens, Joe Reinhardt, and Swede Swenson.

ALSO UNDER WAY is the memorials and gifts program headed by George Westby and Mel Weeg. Already donated are the altar, pulpit, processional cross, pulpit Bible, dimmers for nave lights, outside effect lighting, lighting fixtures except for the nave, and the light for the recreation area.

Speaking about the church, which is expected to be ready for the first service late in October, Rev. John P. Petersen, Our Saviour's Lutheran pastor, said. "We are building a church to serve a generation materially secure, yet morally and spiritually insecure. It means that we cannot build according to the standards of our childhood, because people no longer understand or appreciate those standards. It is folly to say that those were the good old days.

"The church that builds a program or a building on those standards is hiding its head in the sands of time.

"It would be a catastrophe, if in times such as these, it should be the church that should be tied to the past, have nothing to say to the present and unable to give hope for the future."

The new church building under construction at N. State rd. and Olive st. was designed by architect Robert Stade and Associates of Park Ridge and is the first church of completely modern design in Arlington Heights. Our Saviour's is a member of the United Lutheran Church in America and presently holds services at Dryden school. (A

Jacobsen Building Permit Court Hearings Continued

Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski has continued to September 10 Circuit court hearings in an Arlington Heights builder's lawsuit to compel village officials to issue a home building permit.

The continuance was granted Tuesday in the year old legal battle because of a crowded court calendar.

The builder is Herbert R. Jacobsen, president of J. R. Jacobsen, Inc., 1714 E. Northwest highway, Arlington Heights.

JACOBSEN, WHO developed the Sherwood area in Arlington Heights, is seeking a writ of mandamus compelling village officials to issue a home building permit for a lot containing only 15,000 square feet on Salem boulevard, 100 feet north of Watling st.

The builder contends that Arlington Heights village board and its president have the power in hardship cases to waive the ordinance banning septic tanks on lots containing less than 20,000 square feet.

A septic tank for the lot on Salem is necessary because the only alternative is too expensive, Jacobsen contends. The closest tie-in to the village sewer system is two blocks away and extending to the [illegible] according to Jacobsen.

BOTH SIDES regard the outcome of this hassle over a septic tank for one lot important. Jacobsen owns 22 lots in the area and

The village board last October turned down Jacobsen's plans for a septic tank to serve the proposed single family residence on the lot. (A

Q. Upon being introduced to Miss Brown for the second time, is it all right to say, "I know Miss Brown?"

A. This statement seems to sound as if it were too much trouble to make a second acknowledgment. It is much better to say, "I have already had the pleasure of meeting Miss Brown."

the HARRIS huddle

GEORGE HARRIS

Guess I'm a little on the "Pollyanna" side this week as everything seems "right with the world," Business in general, has picked up and everyone you meet seems to have a more cheerful outlook. Gone is the talk of recession, which was certainly the topic of conversation not many moons ago.

It is always easy to look on the debit side and see the bad things, but how many of us have the courage to look on the credit side and see just how many wonderful things we have for which to be thankful. It is still a "great big beautiful world" and particularly these United States. It has been a long time since our Uncle Sam let us down, so it is up to us, as individuals, not to let him down. The easy way is to gripe, but let us have the courage to sit down at the end of the day and "count our blessings."

There, I said it and I'm glad. Now everyone can call Old Dad Harris "Polly" for short. Honestly now, don't you think this is still a pretty good country in which to live? Come on now 'fess up.

Understanding Dog Pupils Is His Job

by R. B. FREVERT

"Dog training has come a long way in the last 25 years," says an internationally known veteran of the field.

That's Willy Necker, whose outlook on the dog world has done a lot to bring training to the respected and highly specialized occupation it is today.

OWNER OF THE Training School and Boarding Kennels for all breeds, on Milwaukee ave., 25 miles north of Wheeling, Necker is well versed in animal psychology. He makes every effort to understand the individual personality of his "pupils."

He believes dogs, like people, are cooperative and willing, shy and sensitive, stubborn, over-aggressive, and can be easily spoiled.

The result of patience, skill and long experience in training, many of Necker's dogs have tracked down burglars, saved children, discovered fires, appeared on TV.

Detecting narcotics is one of the latest subjects added to a canine curriculum which includes training in all the fine points of obedience and manners, hunting, tricks and protection.

FOR TRAILING by scent, as in the case of tracking down hidden narcotics, the Doberman Pinscher and German Shepherd are most commonly used. They make the best all 'round "police dogs," said Necker. One big advantage is their long snout; short noses are no good for this kind of highly specialized "snooping."

Necker said sheriff's police in Tucson, Ariz., recently purchased a Doberman and German Shepherd to help trail people who get lost in the desert as well as for guard duty and attack work.

During World War II the two breeds were used to detect plastic mines in both German and Japanese fields. Necker said they were pretty good at distinguishing mines from tin cans and other objects in the ground.

A former Lt. Commander of the U.S. Coast Guard War Dog unit, Necker trained dog units for the coast guard, army, and marines. His job was to instruct both master and dog in sentry and messenger duty, scouting, life saving and attack.

NECKER WAS one of the leaders of the movement which resulted in the popular obedience tests now a standard feature of many dog shows. Tests are held mainly to show the public what dogs can do, that they can be trained as good companions with good manners.

Obedience courses for canines are currently very fashionable, observed Necker. All dogs who attend Necker's school must complete the course before they can be eligible for any other.

Some of the fun is taken out of a well-mannered dog's life, as he must not jump upon people, chase cars, or have any bad house habits.

An expert in all areas of dog training, Necker has developed a retrieving act for sport shows which is the only one of its kind in the country.

Dummy objects or live birds may be used in hunting and retrieving routines, which include quartering the field, following and trailing crippled birds, retrieving them, obeying whistles and hand directions.

A SPECTACULAR performer in this field is the German Short Haired Pointer, which has gained increasing popularity in the U.S. during the past five years. The dog is an all 'round retriever and is very smart. Other favorite hunting dogs are the Irish Setter, Labrador and Chesapeake.

Less serious business, but just as exacting in what it requires of the dog, is Necker's Dalmatian act. The graceful spotted creatures dance, scale a high wall, broad jump, or clown with the precision of a crack drill team.

Necker has traveled all over the country with his dog acts. He and his agile performers have also appeared on TV, including Super Circus.

Surprising as it may seem for one so wrapped up with dogs, Necker said he stopped breeding them some time ago, primarily because of the uncertainty of the market and extra work involved.

HE DISCLOSED he's disturbed by the increasing number of places which are flooding the market today with low priced, inferior stock, especially pet shops and all-breed kennels. Even though purebred, dogs often turn out to be poor in health and appearance, he noted.

He advises paying a little more and making sure the dog is of good stock.

Willy Necker was born in Germany, where he began his career as a dog trainer at age 14. His brother, Walter, came over from Stuttgart about three years ago to join him. (B8

SOARING THROUGH THE HOOP is Jitterbug, clown of Willy Necker's famous Dalmatian act. German born Necker, internationally recognized for his expertness in all areas of dog training, owns the Training School and Boarding Kennels on Milwaukee ave. 2½ miles north of Wheeling.

Modern Doctors Are Dedicated

by PAUL ZEHNER

Many of us have warm memories of a family doctor who came miles over bad roads to visit a member of the family. Maybe he stayed over night or for a meal and seemed like a member of the family. His dedication to his work was easy to see.

We may get the idea that modern doctors are a different sort, less dedicated than those horse and buggy doctors of years ago. The truth is doctors haven't changed, but the methods of treating us have. The doctors of pioneer days would have given anything for the advantages of treating patients in the modern hospital. If they had had modern drugs, they wouldn't have needed to spend hours seeing a pneumonia patient through a crisis.

IT'S A TRIBUTE to the profession of medicine that we have come to expect the doctor to be a dedicated person. When we get sick, we expect him to know his job and help us get well.

We are sometimes confused by the efficiency in healing brought about by specialization and high standards of medical practice. The family doctor may call in a specialist or refer you to one. Some of the intimacy between the patient and the doctor may be lost because of the "teamwork" approach.

We must not forget that these modern methods of treatment are the outgrowth of the doctor's dedication. He is the enemy of disease and human suffering. As medicine advances, he has more to learn. He recognized that he cannot learn it all. When he suggests a specialist, he is doing it for our welfare.

IT'S UNLIKELY the doctor would survive the years of rigorous training for the profession if he lacked the sense of dedication that has always been a mark of the profession.

Doctors haven't forgotten our need for sympathy and understanding. In the midst of modern scientific method, they still follow the precepts of Maimonides, a physician and philosopher who lived more than 750 years ago. His oath and prayer have endured for centuries. "O let me ever behold in the afflicted and suffering, only the human being." (B8

Also announced was the forthcoming release of two commemorative stamps. One, to be placed on sale Aug. 16, will observe the anniversary of the laying of the Atlantic cable. The other, to be issued August 28, will commemorate the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

PROBLEMS OF MEXICAN-AMERICANS in northwest suburbs are chief concern of the new Bensenville chapter of League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC). The local council, organized in April, already has won national distinction for its active program. Reporter Ted Smart of Paddock Publications (left) interviews local council president Nick Rios of Bensenville (seated) and district governor Rudy Perales of Wood Dale. (Register photo

What's LULAC? Local Chapter Leaders Explain

What's LULAC?

The housewife and mother might respond, "Those powdered milks are convenient, but they don't taste like the real thing."

The blase urbanite might quip, "Stud, faro, or whatsit—LULAC—they're all the same to me. Just so I don't lose too much."

But to its many thousands of members — LULAC — League of United Latin American Citizens — is the last great hope for a better life.

Its anonymity among non-members is understandable, for, unlike so many "Hate Hate" exhortations of other minority-group organizations, LULAC spends no money for propaganda. Instead, its small treasury is spent where it is most needed — among its poor and suffering people.

Instead of money for brotherhood posters, money for a young girl's schooldress. Instead of appeals for charity, charity in the form of new shoes for a small boy.

The uniqueness of the LULAC approach is its emphasis on self-examination.

Controlling the reflex of the oppressed to lash back at the oppressor, LULAC asks its members to examine prejudice, to see if there is any basis for it, and to "shape up" if there is.

Rudy Perales, 6 N. 112 Poplar, Wood Dale, is district governor of the newly-formed northwest district. Much of the anti-"Mexican" feeling, he says, comes from the popular belief that Mexican-Americans are "dirty — and like it that way."

"This is not so," says Perales. "Most of our people are living in shanties and chicken coops because there is no place else. Kids, playing in the mud outside their houses, will track the mud in. It's inevitable."

The shortage of farm hands during World War II, and the promise of a better life, brought hundreds of Mexican-Americans to the northwest suburban area —then largely a farming district. Most of them came from Texas.

The new arrivals were disillusioned when they saw the condition of available housing and the primitive sanitary facilities with which many were provided. Great numbers returned to Texas.

"In recent years," says Nick Rios, "the labor surplus in south Texas, largely complicated by the 'braceros' (Mexican nationals with U.S. work permits), has led a lot of our people to come north again."

Rios, of R.R. 2, 228 H, Bensenville, is president of LULAC's council 326.

He and Perales admit that there is "some bad" among Latin-Americans, but are quick to point out that this is true of all national groups.

It is in the area of housing, admittedly the most immediate and urgent need of the newcomers, that the "bad" comes out in some farmers.

"Why do some farmers pipe water to within 50 feet of a tenant's shack?" they ask, and then answer. "It's not to save the additional three or four dollars' expense if a tenant has running water, they will want a sink; and, if they have a sink, they will want a bathtub." This, Rios and Perales point out, could lead to a long list of items — a list constituting a decent place to live.

But these are grievances spoken about only among LULAC members, grievances they themselves are quietly trying to solve.

Almost Ghandi-like in its passivity, LULAC asks members to understand the reasons for their being cast in the stereotype of the shiftless and lazy peon. The reasons: ignorance, indifferance, and misunderstanding.

But the LULAC code admonishes: "Learn how to discharge your duties before you learn how to assert your rights; educate and make yourself worthy, standing high in the light of your own deeds."

One might wonder at this humble approach to a problem that fills every waking and sleeping moment in the lives of each Latin-American adult and child. And one might reflect on their heritage.

Aztec, Mayan, Toltec, Apache, and Spanish blood mixed in a near-tropic climate, chained to the land for centuries by tradition and repression . . . European mores imposed on an ancient culture . . . the theology of Rome ingrained over a primitive pantheism . . . a history of acceptance and revolt, of pride and humility.

A violent, colorful history of inscrutable contradiction.

What has been the success of LULAC?

Although the national organization was founded 29 years ago, the Bensenville council was not formed until last April 13. In the past three months, membership has tripled from an original 37 civic-spirited Mexican-Americans.

Rios and Perales believe, that as a result of the LULAC program, "people are friendlier," and there is more cooperation and understanding from local government and police officials.

How large is the Spanish-speaking community?

With the cooperation of the Opportunity Council, Inc., a survey was completed last week by six members: Vito Garcia, Paulo Valle, and Richard Perez of Bensenville; Ramon Dianda, Franklin Park; Juan Burovato, Arlington Heights; and Jose Villarreal, Stone Park.

From Wolf rd. to Arlington Heights rd., and from Grand ave. to Algonquin rd., the pollsters asked questions and counted noses. The survey found 175 families of Mexican extraction, 80 per cent of whom needed better housing.

The over-all LULAC estimate: 900 such families in a 25-mile radius of Bensenville.

Rios and Perales expect membership to expand and include the majority of these people, "especially now that we have their trust."

They explained that membership, despite its rapid advance, would increase at a much greater rate if the people approached were not so suspicious.

"They've been taken advantage of and hoodwinked so often, they don't know who is their friend," the pair said.

"Reverend, we're going to start saving for a home of our own from the very first day!"

THE LONG ARM of the law reaches out to inscribe the name, license number and make of car of a speeding motorist on the radar graph now being used by Arlington Heights police. The graph will be brought into court as evidence when their cases come up. The officer making the inscription is C. J. Herrerin of Arlington Heights.

Arlington Heights Employs Radar to Control Speeders

Arlington Heights police have launched an all-out crusade against speeding and reckless driving on residential streets.

Their weapon: radar.

Radar and the practices used by police are designed to accomplish one thing — save lives, prevent accidents.

THE UNIT, which cost approximately $1,500, replaces the electric timers previously used by the village. The tubes stretched across the pavement to record speed were abandoned because they are a potential traffic hazard and are less accurate than radar.

Police Chief L. W. Calderwood said the village has been deluged with complaints about speeders on such streets as Campbell, Ridge, State, Euclid, Sigwalt, and Kensington. The radar will be concentrated on these streets for the time being.

"Our purpose is not to make it rough on motorists," added the chief. "All we're trying to do is protect the children and residents living along these streets. Something needs to be done to control flagrant violators who insist on driving 20 and 30 miles over the speed limit."

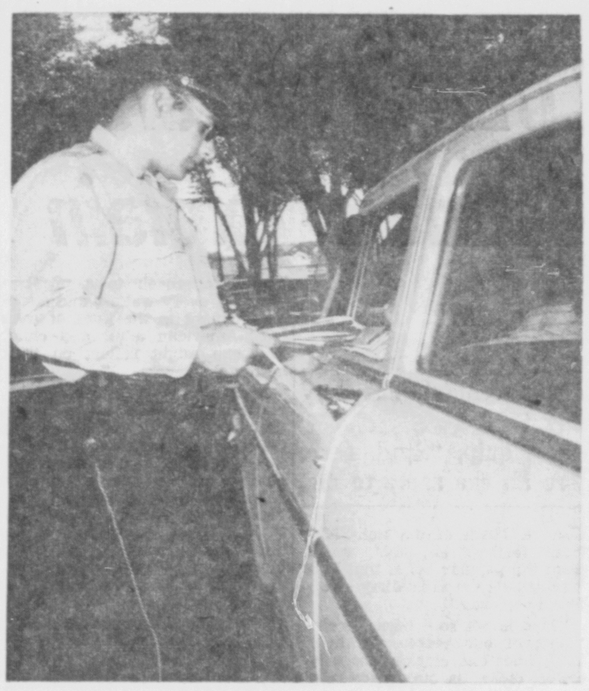
THE RADAR screen itself is placed in the trunk of an old-model Plymouth coupe parked at the side of the road. As a speeder passes the screen, the radar picks up the miles-per-hour and transmits it to a graph chart. The description of the car, time, and license number are recorded on the graph which goes into court to show the exact speed of the car. Meanwhile, a police car stationed a block ahead of the radar car is radioed to halt the speeder and make the arrest.

In addition to controlling speed, the radar will also be used for traffic counts, speed surveys, and as a "psychological" weapon to keep speeding at a minimum.

"We only hope," said Calderwood, "that these tickets will remind speeders to be more careful. We're only doing a job — and that's to save lives." (AF

CHECKING radar screen before commencing speed checks on Dunton st. is Officer Hefferin. The new radar equipment is designed to crack down on flagrant speed violators on Arlington Heights' residential streets.



TRAPPED BY RADAR! A speeder receives ticket from Officer Phil Olszewski, Arlington Heights. Radar is safer and more accurate than the electronic timers formerly used by the village.

Village To Move Meters

Village will be moving some parking meters around this week following adoption of two recommendations at Monday night's board meeting.

Meters along State rd. from the railroad tracks south to George st. will be removed to abate traffic congestion in that area. Involved are some 33 twelve hour and 10 one hour meters on both sides of the street.

Three meters will be left in front of Hill-Behan Lumber co., 5 S. State, since the street is recessed at that point.

IN PRESENTING the recommendation to the board Acting Village Manager J. Ward Wright expressed the opinion that the new parking lot on S. State would accommodate motorists accustomed to parking in the two blocks affected.

At the same time the village agreed to install one hour meters on the north side of Sigwalt from Vail to Highland, presently a gratuitous area for vehicles.

No parking signs will be erected on the south side of Sigwalt.

Furniture Store Calls It 'Quits'

Westgate Home Furnishings, Inc., located in the Westgate shopping center, has decided to call it quits, and has delivered to Attorney Nathan Yorke, Chicago, a general assignment of its assets for the benefit of creditors.

Yorks announced Monday that he has scheduled an auction sale for Saturday, August 16, to dispose of the company's assets. The auction will start at 11 a.m.

YORKE'S OFFICE said this action is not a bankruptcy, nor a receivership, but a trust, wherein the company wishes to settle with its creditors.

Bidders at the auction must secure their bids with a minimum deposit of 25 per cent in cash or certified check. But the assignee reserves the right to reject any and all bids, Yorke said.

Ground Observer Corps to Meet

Arlington Heights' Ground Observer corps will meet tonight at the home of the post supervisor, Charles Opela, 1520 N. State, at 8 p.m.

New members to the corps will be instructed in post procedures, methods of reporting, and aircraft recognition.

Opela invites all interested to attend the meeting and extends a special invitation to high school students aged 16 or over.

More information may be had by calling CL 3-5255. (AF

Storage Shed Construction To Proceed

Village board this week agreed to proceed with the construction of a storage shed at the municipal garage at a total cost of $6,369. Cost was covered in the approved budget for the year.

John Chapple and co. will construct the shed, a butler steel building 32 feet by 61 feet, 10 inches, and 10 feet in height.

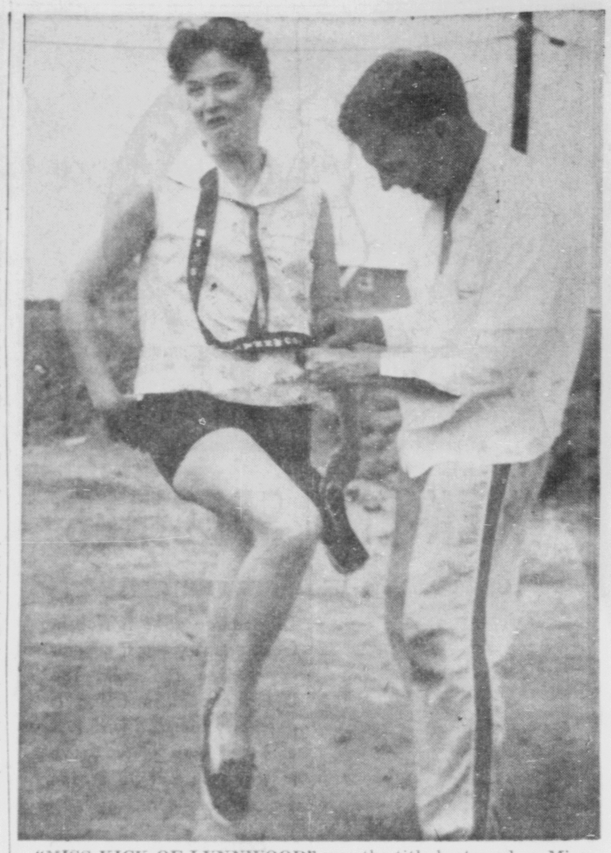
OTHER expenditures acted upon included the purchase of a 5-ton Buffalo-Springfield roller, complete with tractor, for $4,000. The roller, described as "like new," has been in use two summers by the Tews Construction co. of Waukegan.

In not such good condition was a 1953 Chevrolet sedan which the village board agreed to sell a village employee, Mrs. Ann Peters, for $100 Wright said the vehicle was in a state of disrepair and had been rejected for possible use by all village department heads. (AF



"MISS KICK OF LYNNWOOD" was the title bestowed on Miss Aileen McAdams at the first annual picnic of the Lynnwood Home Owners' association July 13. Miss McAdams earned the title by kicking a ball in competition with other women of the area. She is being congratulated here by Glenn Gustke. The affair was held in Lynnwood Park with beverages served by the association; picnickers brought their own food. Lynnwood, an unincorporated area of 159 homes, is just north of Arlington Heights.

Post Office Is Rationing Stamps

A run on the Arlington Heights post office left the local postal service short of one cent stamps Monday.

Postmaster Virginia Dodge reported that the change in postal rates brought hundreds to the office in search of the coveted penny stamps. Some 60-70,000 one cent stamps were sold in three days.

Mrs. Dodge believes that many of the customers were attempting to hoard the stamps since patrons had a surplus of three cent stamps purchased before the rate change. "We are now limiting purchases to 200 stamps per customer," she informed.

"If people will buy the penny stamps just as they need them, there will be no great shortage," she added. The post office received a shipment of 30,000 one cent stamps Tuesday.

THE LOCAL office added its plea for more stamps to similar cries from all over the country. Officials in Washington, D. C., hastened to meet the demands by printing more one-centers.

The local post office reported that it has plenty of four cent stamps and two cent post cards.

Postage-due mail was heavy, especially late mail posted in Chicago. (AF

Trustees Listen To Zoning Debate

Village board Monday night courteously sat in on a debate over the proposed rezoning of a piece of Wilke rd. property from residential to commercial. The lot, several hundred feet south of Campbell, would become the site of an A and P super market if rezoning is accomplished.

Representing the affirmative was the purchasing group's attorney. Stefan Stein, Westgate home owner, presented the negative's case.

Stein presented a lengthy seven point plan in which he claimed spot rezoning, persecution, and faulty reasoning on the part of the planning commission. Culminating his argument in a plea for the safety and sanctity of Westgate, he suggested the northwest side of the village as a supermarket site and claimed that the new market would cause traffic and drainage problems.

THE AFFIRMATIVE based its case on the approval of the zoning board of appeals June 30, and the fact that they have been long-suffering in their attempt to rezone the property.

Both sides claimed support from planner Kincaid, who, unfortunately, was not present to straighten out the matter.

Board attempted to waive rebuttal but was overpowered.

Debate lasted 55 minutes and ended in a draw, the matter being referred to a committee which would finally find out what Kincaid recommended.

Construction Drops Here For July

Construction in Arlington Heights dropped during the month of July according to figures released by the building commissioner, Fred J. Hammer.

Hammer called the month "average" although permits for 1-family residences dropped from May and June totals of 67 to a July figure of 46.

EVALUATION of the July building, which brought the year's total of permits to 309, was estimated at $935,470.

In addition 11 permits for residence garages and carports were issued, at a value of $13,511; permission was given for 21 alterations to houses, totaling $55,402, and one other building alteration estimated at $2500. (AF

Highland Water Main Approved

Installation of an 8-inch water main in Highland avenue from Sigwalt to Campbell was approved Tuesday night by the board of trustees.

This was necessitated by the fact that the present 4-inch main is totally insufficient to service a commercial or multiple family area and will, therefore, have to be replaced within the next few years, J. Ward Wright, acting village manager, said.

Wright pointed out that installation of the new main before the street is paved will result in a savings to the village of about 30 per cent and will enable the village to forego the necessity of ripping open a new street.

COMPLETE COST as submitted by contractor Dominic Di Orio is $6,300.50.

Also under the topic of public improvements the board agreed to share costs to install curbing on Vine, between Ridge and Fernandez, with the property-owners involved.

The trustees voted to pay 50 per cent of the estimated cost of $1,320. Action was taken since the property-owners cannot construct their curb sidewalks until curbs and gutters are established.

Property-owners affected were granted permission to install curb sidewalks because of the location of a number of well-developed trees. (AF

Assessor Announces Licensing Program

By mid-1959 every one of the 1,200,000 parcels of land in Cook county will have its own individual permanent "license number," under a new program which the County Assessor's office is putting into effect.

As a result, checking the tax status of property, which is currently quite an ordeal for the average tax-payer, will be much easier in the future.

THE NEW SYSTEM, which the Assessor's office began installing three months ago, does away completely with the century-old method of identifying property by townships and subdivisions. Instead, there will be a single number — like an auto license number — on every piece of property in Cook county. The reform has been a long-term recommendation of the Civic Federation and other civic groups.

County Assessor P. J. Cullerton, who ordered an all-out drive to install the new property identification system soon after taking office last April, reported today that it is definitely past the experimental stage, and that progress in installing it has been faster than expected.

"We have already put the new number on all of the 10,000 parcels of land in Rogers Park, and we're well along in numbering the property in Lake View," Cullerton announced. "By the end of the year we will also have completed the Hyde Park township, and possibly other areas within Chicago."

"We are well ahead of schedule in our program to have an individual number on all parcels of land in Cook county by mid-1959."

ROGERS PARK, Lake View and Hyde Park townships comprise a major part of the Chicago lake-front area.

Assessor Cullerton gave this reason for the mid-1959 goal for installing the new system: "Every four years the Assessor's Office conducts a complete evaluation of all real property in Cook county. 1959 is such a year, and we want to use the new system for the 1959 Quadrennial Assessment."

Besides making it much easier for the tax-payer to obtain information on his property, the new system has another important advantage: It will permit more extensive use of modern electronic tabulating machines for keeping tax records.

Under the old system, Assessor Cullerton pointed out, tax record-keeping was based on a cumbersome and hard-to-remember legal description which included both numbers and names of subdivisions. For the tax-payer armed with only an address, picking up the key elements in this legal description involved considerable map study. Even then, further search was necessary to bring him face to face with his tax records, since the Assessor's Office had previously filed them under an entirely separate volume, page and line listing which varies with each Quadrennial Assessment.

UNDER THE NEW system, a single, permanent ten-digit number will substitute for both the legal description and the warrant list number. The new number completely identifies each piece of land, never changes, and appears on each record connected with the property. The difference between the new and the old system can be seen in the case of a synagogue located at 7001 N. California, in Rogers Park.

Under the old system, the legal description was:

"Lots 18, 19, 20 and 21 in block 4 of Rogers Park Manor, being a subdivision of the West 14 Acres of the Northwest ¼ of the Northeast ¼ of Section 36, Township 41 North, Range 13, East of the Third Principal Meridian."

Under the new system, Permanent No. 10-36-210-036 identifies the property numerically. The first two digits designate an area which roughly corresponds to the old township; the next two identify the "sub-area" (corresponding to the section). The next three digits identify the quarter-section and block and the last three indicate the specific parcel of land.

Assessor's Office records on the 7001 N. California property will henceforth be filed under the same permanent number. Formerly, it would have appeared in the property lists under "Volume 503, Page 14, Line 7" — and a clerk would have been needed to find this out.

"IN PROVIDING one permanent number which is both a description and a file number, we think we will save a great deal of time and effort on the part of both the tax-payers and the county government," Assessor Cullerton declared.

To establish and maintain the new permanent numbering system, the Assessor has established a permanent Real Estate Index Number division. A career employee, John T. Havlicek, was appointed to head the department three months ago, and according to Cullerton has been largely responsible for rapid progress in establishing the new system.

Q. There's been some argument among some of my friends as to whose place it is to speak first when meeting on the street, the man or the woman. Will you please settle this for us?

A. It was at one time the "lady" who always spoke first. But today, if they are good friends, there's nothing at all wrong with the man's speaking first.

Williamson To Head Area Scout Appeal

Robert W. Williamson, 498 N. Inverway rd., Palatine, has been appointed chairman for the 1959 Operating Fund Campaign for the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to Fred E. Welsh, council president.

Williamson states, "The Northwest Suburban Council of Scouts will launch its annual Operating Fund drive on October 24th, 1958 to procure ample funds to meet the increasing boy population and to further stimulate the scouting program throughout the Northwest Suburban area of Chicagoland". The goal for the 1959 fund campaign will be $115,000.

The new chairman is secretary and general counsel for the Jewel Tea co. and has his office in Melrose Park. He has been associated with the Jewel Tea organization for the past 13 years.

Williamson is a member of the board of education of Palatine Township high school, District No. 211, and has served as legislative advisor for the Palatine PTA association for two years. He is a member of the Illinois State Bar association, Chicago Bar association and The Chicago Tax club. He is a past president of the Inverness association.

Williamson has been active in Scouting in the Northwest Suburban Council for the past seven years through the Scouting interests of his two Scout sons, Robert, age 15, and Michael Pinney, age 10. (B8

Summer Stage to Present 'Outward Bound' Aug. 14-15

Curiosity about death and the life thereafter, long a subject for the author's pen, forms a plot of Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound," to be presented by Summer Stage August 14 and 15, in Arlington high school's Little Theater.

Imagine finding out that you are dead, although you feel very much alive! And consider the misgivings of a premature judgment after a "not-so-pure" life.

SUCH ARE THE problems challenging the young cast now hard at work in nightly rehearsals. Summer Stage is a group of northwest suburban youths interested in acting.

"Outward Bound" will be the third annual production by the Thespians. "Dear Ruth" and "Importance of Being Earnest" were previous presentations.

As Henry and Ann, Laird Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Williamson, 50 S. Elmwood, Palatine, and Ellen Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Wolf, 607 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, portray a young couple who committed suicide because of romantic difficulties. Plot revolves around this pair and their judgment.

Also waiting to be judged are Scrubby (Mike Woodworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodworth, 616 E. ShaBonee, Mt. Prospect), Tom Prior (John Nimmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Nimmer, 400 S. Meadowbrook, Wheeling), and Mr. Lingley (Tom Farrand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farrand, 923 N. Race, Arlington Heights).

Waiting to do the judging are Rev. Frank Thomson (Scott Adam, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Adam, 411 N. Maple, Prospect Heights) and Rev. William Duke (Jeff Layson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Layson, 1109 W. Dunton, Arlington Heights).

Tickets are on sale now from members of the cast or may be purchased the nights of the performances. (ACM STUDYING SCRIPT of Outward Bound," Summer Stage's August 14, 15 dramatic production are assistant director Sharon Sellers; director Donald Baylor; Frank Embrey, technical director; and Patt McGill, stage manager.

CNW Promises Commuter Relief with New Schedule

The Chicago & North Western railroad can ease its standee load on commuter trains by abandoning lightly patronized close-in stations, said Robert W. Heron, the line's general superintendent of transportation.

Heron presented the Illinois Commerce Commission with statistics on standees in the line's Wisconsin division trains at hearings before the state commission in Chicago.

Standees on Chicago-bound trains from such suburbs as Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, and Harvard, Heron said, average 180 a train or a total of 1,690 for the 17 daily trains.

"We need to get equipment released for the longer runs to ease this standee load," he told ICC Examiner Forrest McElroy.

HERON SAID more cars or more trains are not the answer because it would worsen the congestion that already exists at Chicago's Madison street terminal each morning rush hour.

Rush hour trains are scheduled into the Chicago terminal on an average of one every 46 seconds.

This sometimes causes trains to be stopped outside the terminal for several minutes, Heron said. He contends that more trains can't be fitted into the terminal under present circumstances.

The railroad proposes to eliminate 23 stations on its three divisions—15 close to Chicago's loop.

RALPH GROSS, engineer of Chicago's city council traffic committee, has testified that the line should not be permitted to close any stations until it presents an alternative plan to provide service.

"The railroads have not made an effort to develop a coordinated transportation plan that would avoid further congestion of streets if they should reduce service," Gross said.

Railroad Attorney Jay Hillman told the ICC that 3,000 persons daily use the stations the line wants to close, out of 907,000 using other lines and means of transportation.

The railroad contends it can save $794,000 by closing the 23 stations. The line's officials say the North Western is losing more than $2 million annually on its commuter service.

THE NORTH WESTERN also seeks ICC authority to raise basic fares an average of 24 per cent and revise its commuter ticket system.

It proposes to replace 10 and 25-ride tickets with weekly, semi-monthly and monthly tickets.

The proposed changes have been opposed by commuters and municipalities served by the railroad. Hearings before the ICC are in their fifth month and were concluded last week.

The railroad carries 46,000 commuters each business day on its north, northwest, and west lines.

O'Hare Field Now A Port of Entry

O'Hare Field officially becomes a port of entry tomorrow with the opening of an international passenger arrivals terminal.

City and federal officials, headed by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago and Frank Peska, collector of customs, will participate in dedication ceremonies. The arrivals terminal, located just south of the main terminal, will house facilities of the U. S. Customs, Immigration, Public Health and Agriculture departments.

THE FIRST passengers to be cleared through the new facility for entry into the United States will arrive aboard a Trans World Airlines Jetstream from Rome and Paris.

It will be the first nonstop flight from Paris to Chicago, according to George V. Lambert, TWA sales manager.

Mayor Daley will welcome the first passenger and the captain of the TWA plane will present the mayor with a letter of greeting from the mayor of Paris.

The TWA flight is scheduled to leave Paris at 9 p. m., Paris time tonight and come nonstop to O'Hare. There will be about 50 passengers aboard the inaugural flight.

The long-range Jetstream, according to Lambert, will follow the great circle route, passing over London, Dublin, Goose Bay, Sault Ste. Marie, and Michigan into O'Hare field. The route covers more than 4,000 miles, he noted.

TWA, ON MAY 3, inaugurated the first Chicago-Paris nonstop service. The westbound flight has been stopping in New York to clear customs and immigration as well as public health inspection, pending completion of the O'Hare terminal.

The international arrivals terminal, formerly an air freight hangar, has been completely refurbished and painted, the interior in pastel colors.

Passengers will deplane in front of the new terminal and enter the public health "holding room" from where they will be processed for entry into the U. S. They will move from the public health room through immigration where inspectors will check their passports and other travel documents and proceed into the customs room where their baggage will be examined.

There is a waiting room on the northside of the terminal for persons meeting arriving passengers.

Another Square Dance Is Set at Shopping Center

The third of a series of Friday night square dances has been set by the Rolling Meadows shopping center for tomorrow night. Starting at 8:30 p.m. and continuing to 11 p.m., square dance exhibition groups from Chicago to Barrington will put on a real "country-style" show.

The shopper-viewers to the free show will be invited to participate in two or three "walk-through" beginners square dances. The dance caller, Don Finfrock, will instruct the dances and an experienced square-dance couple will be placed in each square.

Held in the shopping center parking lot, the dances have drawn record crowds. Another square dance is scheduled for August 15.

A SECOND PHASE of the shopping center promotion by the Business Men's association is the awarding of eight Monarch sportster bicycles to patrons. The second winner of the free drawing was M. Molkup, 15 N. Vail ave., Arlington Heights. The winning ticket was drawn by Mrs. Lawrence Hall, 2709 School dr., Rolling Meadows. The first bicycle winner was Mrs. John Bishop of Elk Grove Village.

Refreshments and soft drinks are sold during the square dance events by Rolling Meadows youth groups. Refreshments for the affair tomorrow will be sold by the teen clubs of the Civic and Youth organization. (B8

Paris Is Setting for Colorful Annual Water Ballet August 8, 9

PARIS IS THEME of 13th annual water ballet. These "Can-Can" dancers expose long black stockings and colorful garters.

SWIMPHONETTES POSE on high board. Gold metallic net covers swim suits of these five. Girls made own costumes.

PART OF TROUPE lines up on low board. Moments later they will doff costumes and props for a cooling dip.

One hundred gals. from 10 to 16, will participate in the 13th annual water ballet sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district, Aug. 8 and 9.

In addition, two boys will be in the show. Starting time is 8:30 p.m., at Pioneer park.

This year, a Paris setting is the central theme. If visitors permit, they will be carried—through the music, swimming, and dancing — on a tour of Gay Paree, across the river Seine, into Montmartre, and down the Rue Pigalle.

A cafe scene, Can-Can, and Apache dance will highlight some of the land routines. Two boys and two girls make up another novelty number for the show. One of the young men in this number is a political refugee from Cuba and attends North Central college. He is working at the pool during the summer.

"THE SHOW has lovely music and should bring back many reminiscences to those who have spent time in Paris, and it will present a delightful touch of Paris life to those who have visited there only in their dreams," said Mrs. Mary Ellen Hill, ballet director.

According to Mrs. Hill, all the girls participating must have first passed the Red Cross intermediate swimming test. The training and tests are offered in park district's summer swimming program.

The girls are then chosen in a rating test held at the end of each season. Last year, a group now named the Swimphonettes was chosen for the more difficult stunts. Thirty-five girls, aged 11 to 16, make up this group.

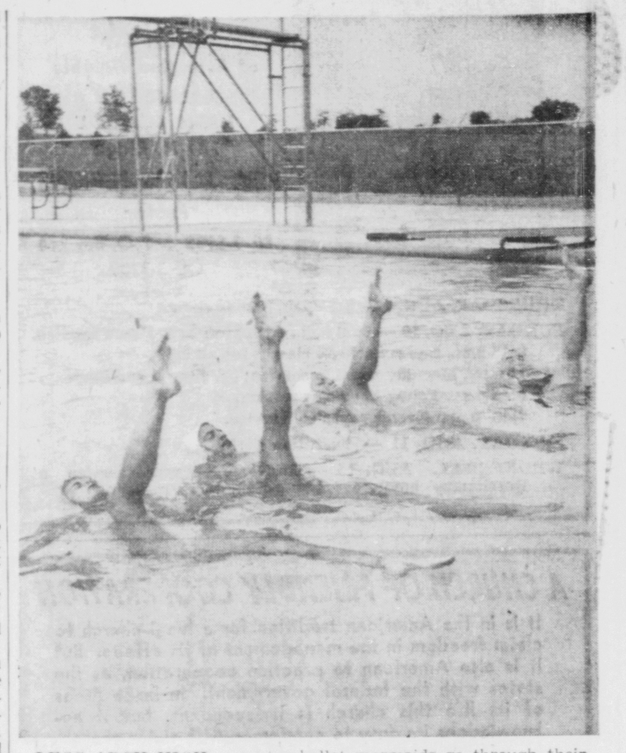
IN ADDITION to the Arlington Heights showing, the ballet troup will perform four other shows. These will be presented at Midlothian Country club, Itasca Country club, Tam O'Shanter, and the Edgewater Beach hotel.

"The show reaches an almost professional quality, but with the freshness of amateurs," said Mrs. Hill. (AF

Do not say, "Do you object to me helping you out?" Omit "out," and say, "Do you object to my helping you?"

Do not say, "The two people met and greeted one another." Say, "The two persons met and greeted each other."

Do not say, "Wait until I am done reading." "Done," in the meaning of finished, is a colloquialism that should be avoided in formal speech of writing. It is better to say, "Wait until I have finished reading."



LEGS ARCH HIGH as water ballet mermaids go through their routines. Gals worked one year to perfect original stunts.

Arlington Terrace News

The Harold Henrys, 834 Hickory, recently returned for a 3½ week vacation trip to the west coast, where they visited Selma's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Zastrow of Southgate, Cal. Traveling by train, they made a stop in Kansas City, Mo., to visit friends, proceeding from there to Los Angeles, where they enjoyed visits with relatives and friends in that vacinity. Before returning home, they made a stop in Omaha, where they formerly lived, and visited acquaintances nearby.

Ray and Ginny Nitch, 813 Hickory, enjoyed a visit last week from their niece, Jeanne Bauer, of Port Washington, N.Y.

The Gerald Brodericks and three of their four children, 917 Frederick, spent a pleasant week vacationing at Sand lake near Hayward, Wis. They spent the week fishing, swimming and relaxing in the sun.

Visiting the Robert Westcotts, 811 Frederick, are Nora's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Latovick and daughters, Polly and Pam, of Clawson, Mich.

BIRTHDAY WISHES go to John St. Germaine, son of Georgia and John St. Germaine, 913 Frederick, who celebrated his eighth birthday last Wednesday with neighborhood chums attending his party.

Parents of a baby girl are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Weingart, 841 Hickory. Julie Ann was born on her father's birthday, July 16, in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, and weighed 6 pounds 6 ounces. She has one sister, Lori Lee.

Robbie Westcott, 4, of 811 Frederick and Jimmie Fillebrown, 5, 901 Beverly, were injured in a fall last week while both were riding on a tricycle. Robbie had two stifches in his finger and Jimmie required three stitches in his chin.

Also hurt last week was Tommy Turner, 2, son of the Elmer Turners, 901 Frederick. Tommy sustained a mild concussion after falling off the stoop of his home.

A PRESENTATION of "Cinderella" was given last week by a group of children under the direction of Audrey Wunderle, 922 Douglas. The play, which was a huge success, was given on three successive nights and was attended by neighborhood children and parents. In the cast were Peggy Elgas, Tommy Quid, Mimi Camin, Barbara Haag, Barbara Hofer and Peggy Wunderle. All of the children were in the six to seven age group.

Susan Johnson 10, daughter of Willis and Deedee Johnson, 815 Frederick, is seriously ill in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, with a kidney ailment. Sincere wishes for a speedy recovery are extended by her friends and neighbors.

A CHURCH OF FRIENDLY COOPERATION

It is in the American tradition for a local church to claim freedom in the management of its affairs. But it is also American to practice cooperation, as the states with the federal government. In large areas of its life this church is independent, but it acknowledges its duty to cooperate with sister churches of all names when possible, and with world Christianity.

Railroad Hearings Climax Sept. 24

Oral arguments before the Illinois Commerce Commission in Chicago September 24 will climax six months of hearings on the North Western railroad's petition to abandon 23 stations, revise its commuter ticket system, and raise fares an average 24 per cent.

The railroad is to file its briefs, or written arguments, by August 25, and the objectors by September 17. Commuters and municipalities served by the railroad's north, northwest and west lines have voiced opposition to the proposed changes.

THE OPPOSITION at 41 hearings before the state commission was led by Attorney Harry Booth, representing the North Western Commuters Association, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Edward Kelly, representing Chicago.

The commuters' association has disputed the railroad's claim that it is losing more than $2 million annually on its commuter service, contending that a large portion of the loss figure is from expenses improperly allocated to that service.

The railroad has contended that it can save $794,000 by closing the 23 stations. The association has challenged this figure, putting the direct cost of operating the stations at $60,000.

THE NORTH Western should not be permitted to close any stations until it presents an alternative plan to provide needed service, said Ralph Gross, engineer of Chicago's city council's traffic committee. Gross testified on behalf of Chicago at hearings last month before the ICC.

"The railroads have not made an effort to develop a coordinated transportation plan that would avoid further congestion of streets if they should reduce service," Gross said.

The railroad contends it can ease its standee load on commuter trains by abandoning the "lightly patronized close-in stations."

"We need to get equipment released for the longer runs to ease this standee load," said the line's transportation superintendent, Robert W. Heron.

THE RAILROAD'S propose d fare structure calls for unlimited monthly tickets and elimination of the present 10 and 25 ride tickets good for one year.

Booth has called the proposed discontinuance of 10 and 25 ride tickets "a radical step that may not be in the best interest of the railroad."

The ICC has suspended North Western's proposed rates until November 20. The state commission must rule by then or the rates will automatically become effective.

Hearings on the line's petition opened in Chicago last March 12.

The railroad carries 46,000 commuters each business day on its north, northwest, and west lines. (B8

College Campuses Now International

College campuses are rivalling international airports as the "crossroads of the world."

"More students from other lands are coming to our country for higher education than ever before in the nation's history," said Dr. Joseph C. Boyce, vice president of academic affairs and dean of the graduate school at Illinois Institute of Technology.

He cited a recent survey from the Institute of International Education, which reported a 1957-58 influx of 15,118 graduate students from foreign countries coming to study in our colleges.

"THERE ARE many reasons why students obtain students' or exchange visitors' visas to study in this country," Boyce added.

—The United States has become a very great world center in higher education and research.

—The United States shares with Canada and certain countries of Western Europe the highest material standards of living the world has known. Other countries rightly recognize the connection between educational opportunities and economic progress.

—Students from many lands come here to study in our institutions of higher learning. Leaders in many countries look to these students to bring home information which will aid in the development of these countries. For instance, India is particularly interested in our steel industry at this time since a major expansion is taking place in India's own steel industries.

—Fulbright and other government programs and the programs of private foundations offer many types of financial assistance to students coming here from overseas.

—U. S. colleges offer foreign students extensive research facilities as well as new viewpoints and new methods of education.

—U. S. colleges may offer excellent instruction in scientific and engineering fields as well as in the areas of architecture and product design.

—Corporate branches of U. S. business throughout the world offer good job opportunities to local sutdents who have studied in the United States.

"LAST YEAR, the graduate division at IIT enrolled some 144 foreign students in its regular program — plus 47 engineering graduates from India who are here under a special schedule," Boyce said.

The Indian students are studying metallurgy, sociology, and economics under the Indian Steel Training program (IN STEP). IN STEP was initiated last year, through a $1,500,000 Ford Foundation grant to colleges throughout the country, to aid India's need for trained personnel in the steel industry. The trainees split their time between the steel mills and the Institute.

The IIT mechanical engineering department leads in enrollment of students from other countries with 27 students. Twenty-one are reported in electrical engineering, 17 in chemistry, and 15 in chemical engineering. Architecture and city planning enrolled 12 and civil engineering enrolled 11 students.

With the IN STEP program, India leads the countries in representation with 85 students. China follows with 34, Korea with nine. The United Kingdom, Greece and Israel have seven students each. The Philippine Islands have six, Latin America and Pakistan, five each and Germany and Japan, four each.

To Act August 12 On Billboard Ban

The county board is slated to act August 12 on a proposed ordinance to ban billboards within 300 feet of toll roads and expressway in unincorporated Cook county.

Passage has been recommended by the county zoning board. The ordinance was drafted by Harry F. Chaddick, planning consultant and director of the county's rezoning program, as a "stop-gap" measure pending completion expected next year of a comprehensive zoning ordinance.

COMMISSIONER John J. Duffy has pointed out the anti-billboard measure for expressways and tollroads would allow the county to collect a small bonus in federal grants for interstate roads. Federal regulations recently adopted by Congress provide a bonus of one-half of one per cent of construction costs if billboards are restricted. This could mean an extra $1 million for the county, Duffy said.

The county board has zoning jurisdiction only in unincorporated areas and the billboard amendment would have no affect in Chicago and its suburbs, which have authority to make their own rules.

The proposed ordinance also sets up a formula governing the size of billboards set back 300 feet and more from the right-of-way line of superhighways. The size of the sign could not exceed 1/200ths of the square of its distance from the highway.

THUS, THE SIZE OF A billboard or advertising sign at 300 feet from the highway could be no larger than 450 square feet, while at 600 feet away it could be as big as 1,800 square feet.

The ordinance does not prohibit the use of business or identification signs. These signs do not advertise a product but rather the name and type of business being conducted on the premises.

Five other counties through which the Northwest Tollways runs between O'Hare International airport and South Beloit already have adopted setback ordinances. Lake, Kane, Winnebago counties ban billboards within 300 feet. McHenry and DuPage counties set limits at 500 feet. (B12

Modern Etiquette

Q. Are the folded thank-you cards proper for acknowledging wedding gifts?

A. A folded card with "Thank you" imprinted on the face is all right, but a handwritten personal message must be added.

Q. When giving a formal dinner, should the dishes be left on the serving table, in case they are wanted for a second helping?

A. Dishes are never passed twice at a formal dinner. After being passed once, they should be returned to the kitchen.

Q. We have just recently moved into a new neighborhood, and some of our neighbors have been kind enough to call on us. How soon should these calls be returned?

A. Within two weeks or thereabouts. Failure to return these calls will indicate to your neighbors that their friendship is not desired.

Q. If a girl is attending a cocktail party, and does not drink, what should she do when one is offered to her?

A. There is nothing she can do but refuse graciously with a "No, thank you." But why on earth is she attending a cocktail party in the first place?

Scabrous; rough to the touch, like a file; scurfy; scaly; beset with difficulties; knotty; also, risque. "The sailors started their scabrous tales of night life ashore."

Repugnant; distasteful in a high degree; offensive. "All rudeness was repugnant to her nature."

Q. If the bride's father is not living, would it be all right for her mother to "give her away?"

A. This is quite proper. Under these circumstances, the bride walks down the aisle alone, and at the proper moment in the ceremony the mother steps forward and gives her away.

Q. At a small informal wedding, is it all right for the bride and bridegroom to walk down the aisle together?

A. Yes, if the wedding is small and the bride has no near male relatives to walk with her.

Tender Juicy Round Steak

The best government grade of beef available in quantity is U.S. "Choice" . . . and that's all Jewel will buy for you. This means that only 1 out of every 3 cattle that "come to market" are of the high quality demanded by Jewel.

U.S. Choice beef comes from only heavy, grain-fed cattle. Grain-feeding insures more marbling in the beef. (How tender and flavorful your steak will be depends on the amount of marbling of creamy-white fat throughout the lean.)

OFTEN MISUSED

The words "till" and "Until" are interchangeable. "Until" is more commonly preferred at the beginning of a sentence. Notice that "till" is a word in its own right, and should not be spelled as "til."

Do not say, "I am sick to my stomach." Primarily, "to" means direction toward, and one is not sick "in the direction of" one's stomach. Say, "I am sick at my stomach."

Do not say, "He came out from the house." Say, "He came out of the house."

Do not say, "She pled with her husband." Say, "She pleaded."

Remember that "suspect" is the verb, and "suspicion" the noun. Do not say, "I suspicioned that his claim was false." Say, "I suspected that his claim was false."

Do not say, "He is some better today," or, "They have changed the arrangement some." Say, "He is somewhat better today," and, "They have changed the arrangement somewhat."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Frequent (adjective and verb). Accent the adjective on the first syllable, the verb on the second syllable.

Gyve (a shackle). Pronounce as "jive."

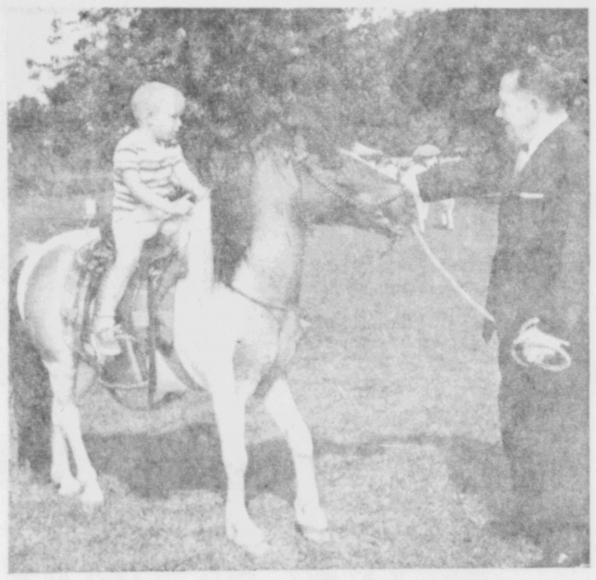
Wheeling Township Democrats Stage Old-Fashioned Political Picnic

TIME OUT FOR HOT DOGS! Enjoying a sandwich in the shade are Christ Krause; Florence Behrens, Gertrude Schultz—the township's oldest Democratic voter; Frank Lorenz, candidate for county treasurer; Bernard Peakin, candidate for state representative; John Heinz; William Morrisey; Warden Sain; Jack Gunnell; and Carl Skoog.

"WE'LL WIN!" That's the optimistic word from Warden Frank Sain (left), candidate for county sheriff, and James Stavros (center), township committeeman, who paused during the Democratic picnic July 26 to answer questions from newsman Charles Hayes of Paddock Publications. The picnic attracted hundreds of Wheeling township voters and officially opened Stavros' vigorous campaign to lure suburbanites into the Democratic column this fall.

LADY VOLUNTEERS check the "cash box" at the annual picnic July 26 of Wheeling township Democrats. Hundreds of suburbanites attended the "old fashioned" picnic and rally held in Wheeling. Scores of Democratic officials and candidates made appearances during the day and night affair which included games, rides, refreshments, and dancing.



"WHOA, BOY!" P. K. Cullerton, candidate for county assessor, gives pony ride to future Democrat, Billy Morrisey, 4, of 811 Maple, Prospect Heights, at the annual picnic of Wheeling Township Regular organization.

NO RIP SNRTIN' political picnic is complete without campaign buttons. Here a campaign worker pins a "Sain for Sheriff" badge on an apprehensive 6-year-old.

WHAT'S A PICNIC without some cotton candy? Peggy Sterner, 8, of 125 Wolf rd., Wheeling, and Karen Smetana, 8, of 201 Wolf rd., Wheeling, get fresh helpings from concessionier John Zarr of Chicago.

CANDIDATES TOOK ADVANTAGE of the Wheeling township picnic to meet suburban voters. Warden Sain extends greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ciccione of Buffalo Grove and their children, Deborah, 8, and Fay, 6. More than 300 persons attended the picnic in Wheeling on July 26.

ANNUAL POLITICAL PICNICS have their serious side, too. Discussing the growing importance of women in politics are Mrs. Albert Williams, Wheeling township committeewoman, and Mrs. John Mackin, 13th congressional district committeewoman.

POLITICS ISN'T all campaign oratory, as Wheeling township Democrats proved at their successful picnic. The regular organization under the leadership of James Stavros staged one of the group's largest affairs. A highlight of the day was the bingo playing which extended far into the evening hours.

NEVER BEFORE

A single beauty product that moisturizes as it tightens pores

Revolutionary New Concept in Skin Care!

DESERT FLOWER

is a moisturizer unlike any you've ever known before!

Not greasy! Not heavy! Not mask-y! BEAUTY ICE feels so light and fresh on your face!

This amazing new product works 2 ways at once to give you a more beautiful, more radiant complexion!

1. As a moisturizer — softens, smoothes, protects your skin!
2. As an astringent—tones, tingles your skin; tightens pores!

Up to now, perhaps you've thought that a moisturizer, in order to moisturize effectively, had to be greasy and heavy! How wonderful to know it isn't so! New BEAUTY ICE proves that the most efficient moisturizer can be light, cool, refreshing! The secret is a new Shulton development in chain-molecule research. This beauty-giving formula links moisturizing and astringent ingredients, gives you a sparkling, blue-green "solid moisture" that melts instantly into your skin, begins its beneficient work immediately — never stays on the skin's surface, as heavy moisturizers do!

Touch BEAUTY ICE to your face—and feel your skin respond: become cool and refreshed, alive with radiant new beauty!

As a moisturizer, BEAUTY ICE softens and protects your skin from the harsh, drying effects of weather, steam-heated rooms. As an astringent, it has a tightening action that helps reduce large pores, gives your skin a finer-textured look, with a young glow!

Good for all skins, BEAUTY ICE works special wonders with dry or aging skin.

The moment you apply it, the tingle tells you that BEAUTY ICE is gently stimulating your skin to firm freshness. It's like giving yourself an invisible facial—in seconds! You'll notice how cool your skin feels! Contains humectants, to hold moisture in your skin — lanolin, to soften your skin—cooling agents, to stimulate. Truly a new experience in skin care!

Always use BEAUTY ICE after you cleanse your face!

1. Apply sparingly to face and throat. Massage lightly until absorbed.
2. Use each morning after cleansing, before applying makeup.
3. Afternoons, use for quick refresher. Evenings, use before going out.
4. Before bed, apply to face and throat for overnight moisturizing.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Indefectible; not liable to defect, failure, or decay. "They lived in a state of indefectible happiness."

Palpable; easily perceptible; obvious. "Here are some palpable errors."

YO-YO PROFESSIONALIST, Pvt. First Class Robert F. Gee of Headquarters Battery, 45th Artillery Brigade, Arlington Heights, demonstrates one of the many tricks he can do with the yo-yo. This one is called "rock-the-cradle." This profitable and unusual pastime has turned into a professional career for Gee, who is a yo-yoist in civilian life. He has toured many Florida cities where he has given demonstrations in selling his yo-yo product as well as organizing champion yo-yo contests for the state of Florida. Gee was inducted into the army in October, 1956, and has been a 45th Brigade telephone operator since April, 1957.

Waste Is Cut by Nike Diet

A recent program at the Arlington Heights NIKE site is cutting waste twofold. Mess Steward John D. Potter, Battery "A", 86th AAA Missile Battalion, has initiated a diet program for overweight personnel who desire to trim a few inches off their waistline.

Since this program has started, waistline and food waste have been cut according to Mess Steward Potter.

Over 280 personnel are fed during each meal at the Arlington Heights mess hall and of these personnel 10 per cent are using the low calories diet program.

DURING THE NOON and evening meals, a special self-service counter, separate from the main food line in the mess hall is utilized for men who are on this diet. The breakfast meal is served from the main line with the men partaking of the foods specified on the diet chart.

This program is operated on a voluntary basis with participants receiving approximately 2300 calories per day. Starchy foods have been either deleted from the ordinary diet or replaced by a low calorie substitute such as skim milk or profile bread.

The actual diet system used is prescribed by The Department of Army.

Faith Is Happier 'State of Mind'

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I have nothing but deep sympathy for the suspicious person; and I have yet to find one who is happy with his condition.

Imagine a society in which every person suspects every other person of teachery, theft, lying, all of the deceitful, hateful things there are in the world Imagine what it would be like for you to live in that atmosphere, an atmosphere in which every move you make is questioned, everything you say is doubted, every good deed you do suspected of having an ulterior motive!

Such a condition would be bad — but how much more so would it be if you, yourself, were always suspicious. If you should never meet a person whom you trust but always expect the worst from everyone; to be afraid other people are trying to harm you, suspect them of flying about you, stealing from you, plotting only misfortune and hardship for you you would be miserable. To live utterly, completely alone in bitterness and suspicion, without friends, mistrusting your wife or husband, your children, your parents, can make of life a hell on earth.

THERE ARE PEOPLE like that whom you least suspect of being that way; for with this suspicious nature, there comes a necessity of concealing feelings, of putting on an act of some sort, because people normally do not like other people who are openly suspicious. If you were such a suspicious person, you would tell yourself that this is because suspicious people are wiser than others. To get along, you might adopt a sweet, honeyed voice, a carefree laugh, or a don't care attitude; but you could never fool yourself, and at night, or when you are alone, all of the suspicions and fears, jealousies and hatreds return, and you are afraid — alone, and afraid. How much alone, and how much afraid, no one will ever know but you.

I would rather have faith in a person and be fooled than to doubt him and be right. Faith is always a happier frame of mind, and in almost all circumstances when dealing with others, is justified.

Often Misused

Distinguish between "sociable" (used of individual persons, in the sense of friendly, liking companions) and "social" (relating to organized society). Thus: "He is a very sociable neighbor," and, "She is devoted to social welfare."

Do not say, "We ate most all the fruit." Say, "almost all."

Do not say, "They planned on staying for a week." Say, "They planned to stay for a week."

Distinguish between "persuade" (which emphasizes the idea of winning over) and "convince" (which emphasizes the idea of proof by argument). Thus: "They persuaded me to go home with them." "They convinced me that their candidate was the best man for the position."

Do not say, "He can illy afford to buy the house." Say, "He can ill afford."

"Pity" implies feeling for the sufferings of one who is regarded as weak or inferior. "Sympathy" refers to the sharing of feelings between persons of similar qualities. Thus: "The President expressed pity for the homeless children of Europe." "We extended sympathy to our friends in their bereavement."

How many of these electric helpers have you added since 1947?... asks LITTLE BILL

You're an average family if —in the postwar years you've added six new electrical appliances. Shown here are a few typical examples.

This is why you're using far more electricity nowadays than you did a few years ago. And why life is a lot easier. But of all the things you buy today, electricity has gone up less than almost anything else.

So, while your bill may be a little higher, electricity is actually doing nearly twice as much work for the money now as it did years ago.

See how little it costs to run each of these electric helpers.

a—Your TV set—2 hours for 1¼¢. The world's finest entertainment.

b—Air conditioner—less than 3¢ an hour. This ¾-ton unit cleans, cools, dehumidifies air in 2 big rooms.

c—Record player—4 hours for 1¢. 6 long-play albums played for 1¢ worth of electricity.

d—150-watt lamp—over 2 hours for 1¢. Good reading light costs only pennies a week.

e—Radio—5 hours for 1¢. Entertains you for just pennies a week.

f—Floor polisher—1 hour for 1¢. Waxes, polishes floors to a bright, shiny finish—saves hours of work.

Other appliances shown include: (g) electric train—8 hours of fun for just 1¢. (h) electric clock—accurate time for 1¢ a week.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

STRANGE THINGS DO HAPPEN in the game of baseball. The Chicago White Sox knocked off the New York Yankees twice on the same day the favorite in the Cook County legion finals dropped abruptly out of the tournament with its second straight defeat. We don't know which was the biggest shock.

In any respect, fans are still wondering what happened to Skokie, pre-tourney favorite, in the legion playoffs at Arlington. Here was a squad which was pegged to go all the way to Galesburg, Ill. for the state finals and then on to the regional meet only to lose to Park Ridge and Park Forest in its first two starts.

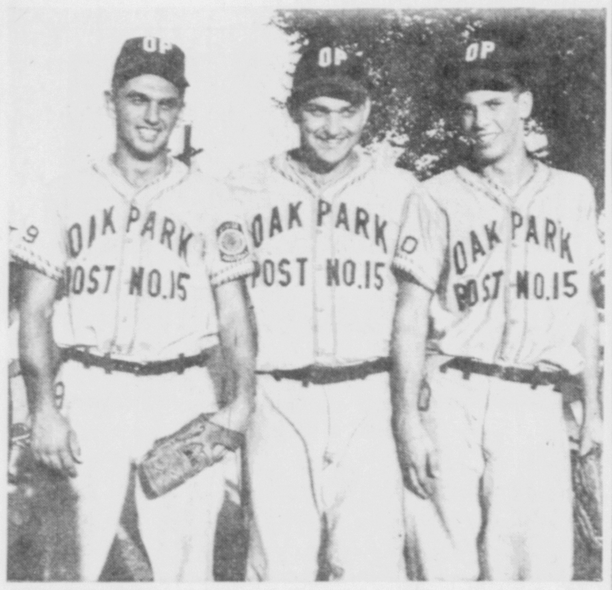
Up Skokie way before Saturday's game the discussion wasn't as much on the county playoffs as it was on "bigger and better things." In fact one writer went to the extreme of saying that each boy "would need a saliva test" if the squad didn't walk off with the county tourney. We understand they're arranging the appointments right now!

It was this type of talk and attitude which led to Skokie's undoing. They beat themselves!

The highly-publicized Ron Chez and Bill Ihne didn't live up to their press clippings although Ihne, even with two "off" games, did show enough class to warrant all the optimism about his future in baseball.

Outside of Ihne, if we had to pick the top five players in the tourney, in regard to futures in baseball, we'd start with Park Forest's Gary Elliott, a fleet centerfielder who banged six solid hits in three games. When he puts on a little beef, Elliott, a 150-pounder, could be a real find for some professional club.

Shortstop Bill Tomb of Coach Herb Reilly's Oak Park nine hit the ball hard every time to all fields and also showed good speed. Tomb was the top scorer on Oak Park's cage team and will be a good pick for some college. Another shortstop, Ron Lis of Skokie, stood out over his "famous" teammates, Chez and Ihne, with four hits in nine trips and some creditable fielding. Although he needs more polish behind the plate, Park Forest's catcher Bart Zeller wielded a fancy bat, cracking seven hits and driving in six runs in three games.



HERB REILLY, center, popular coach of Oak Park's legion team, has reason to be happy with his two pitchers, Bill Hunter and Bob Reed, after the duo had chalked up victories in the Cook County legion playoffs at Arlington's Recreation Park.

Center fielder Bob Kupczak of Park Ridge showed the most consistent power in the tourney and also some fancy fielding, despite playing with an injured back. Kupczak is reportedly headed for Western Michigan along with Chez and Ihne.

The caliber of pitching has been better in county play but Oak Park's Bill Hunter, Park Ridge's Jim Humay, and Park Forest's Larry Buchholz turned in the best stints through Monday.

After witnessing the tournament we have to take our hats off to Merle Guild Post 208 of Arlington Heights for its excellent handling of the affair and to Walt Wessman, Cook County director of Jr. Legion baseball, who did another perfect job with the county finals. In addition, Manager Dave Lynk and members of Arlington's Jr. Legion team deserve congratulations for their work on the diamond. It looked like the Recreation Park of old, not like the diamond we've seen in the past three or four years.

Only one incident marred the meet and it could well have been avoided. A manager of one of the losing teams made a public display of his displeasure with the officiating with ballplayers, parents, and other officials present after one game. This was not the place for this type of outburst. Maybe he had the right to voice a protest, but he didn't have the right to do it at the time and place of his choosing.

It all goes back to a major criticism put forth about Little League baseball, too. Little Leaguers are supposed to learn fair play, teamwork and discipline, and the program endeavors to build character. Yet how many times have we seen parents of these Little Leaguers, people who should know better, violently dispute some decision and make a ridiculous display of their anger? The emphasis on winning has to be toned down for these youngsters and the major responsibility rests with the adults. Based upon an appreciation and understanding of the needs of youth, Little League and Jr. Legion baseball are enthusiastic programs carried on during the summer months. Parents and coaches should realize these needs and not let their feelings dictate their thinking!

Gophers, Stars Rule AH Minors For '58 Season

The Gophers and Stars have good reason for going around Arlington Heights with a lot of pride this week.

For these two minor league clubs proved that they were the class of the four younger divisions with impressive victories in the post-season playoffs.

The Stars, first half champs, knocked off the Seals, second half title-holders, for the South Intermediate crown then went on to bounce the Saints, northside champs for both seasons, in two of three contests.

THE GOPHERS slipped by the Spartans, 6-5, in a playoff affair in the juniors division.

Jim Varnado and Ray Gross shared duties for the Stars as they rolled past the Saints, 16-4, in the final contest of the best-of-3 series. Gross also starred a bat with a homer and triple and seven runs batted in.

Five runs in the eighth inning enabled the Saints to capture the series opener, August 1, with Tom Ewert getting the win in relief of Gary Brown. Varnado relieved for the Stars and absorbed the loss.

THE STARS came back strong in the second contest to square the series with Thomas getting the decision. Thomas fanned five and walked only one in gaining the win over Syden.

Pat Martin hurled creditable ball, fanning 14 and walking five, as the Gophers edged the Spartans, 6-5. Tom LeStarge, the losing pitcher, collected three hits in three tips to the plate.

They're still talking about a play in the July 28 game between the Padres and Oaks. Dick Davis, second sacker for the Oaks, made the rarest possible defensive play when he speared a line drive off the bat of Dave Cook and turned it into an unassisted triple play. He doubled a man off second base and tagged the runner coming down from first base.

Boosters Rout Cavillini's, 15-1, Blast 22 Hits

Some days you can't tell the players without a program.

Sunday was such a day for Black's Boosters.

Unleashing a devastating 22-hit attack, the Boosters displayed power even their most ardent fans didn't know they had in crushing the league-leading Cavillini's, 15-1, in Dolton, Ill.

In only one inning did the Boosters fail to get a [illegible] man on base and they hit their peak in the eighth with seven markers on seven hits.

SECOND BASEMAN Bill Sprincz, who has had trouble getting safeties all summer in the Greater Midwest loop, made up for lost time Sunday with four singles and a double in six trips to the plate.

Other heavy stickers in the locals' lineup who backed southpaw Bob Miller included Dick Lloyd with three singles; Bob Getts with a triple and single; George O'Brien with a triple and single; and Bill Sutherland with a homer and single.

MILLER breezed along while Blacks' routed four pitchers. Bob fanned five and five men was the minimum he faced in every frame.

Saturday, as a tune-up for Sunday's explosion, the Boosters topped Lake Forest, 8-5, with lefty Al McKormick going the route for the win.

Sprincz collected a homer and single and Lloyd Meyer had two hits to left to spark the winners' six hit attack. McKormick's nine inning stint showed 15 strikeouts, including six in a row at one stretch.

Saturday the Boosters will host the Kenosha Chiefs at 3 p.m. at Recreation Park and Sunday the Chicago Yankees at 3:15 p.m. Neither contest is a league affair. (Sp

Cubs Gain LL Title in RM Summer Action

In extra innings before a "packed house" the Cubs of the Rolling Meadows Little League captured the season championship by defeating the second place Braves 2-1. Only trailing by ½ game, the Braves were determined to defeat the first place Cubs in the Tuesday night contest at the new Lindheimer field.

Pitching six innings, Cub Ken Burmeister won his own ball game in the seventh by stealing home. Little League rules prevent boys from pitching more than six innings. Burmeister was relieved in the seventh by Michael Griesman, who snapped off a grounder by Braves Jimmy Buckholz in a double play to end the game in the last of the seventh.

OTHER SCORES last week included a 6-0 victory by the Cubs over the Indians on July 28 and a 9-1 game taken by the Yankees from the White Sox on July 29. The Braves score 11 runs to the White Sox 4 on July 31, and the Yankees recorded a score of 7-0 against the Cardinals on Friday. In another rout Saturday, the Cubs held the White Sox scoreless while they chalked up 14 runs.

The official Little League season closed Wednesday, but two Minor A league games are set for tonight and tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. Playing Thursday will be the White Sox and Braves, while the Cubs and Cardinals meet tomorrow.

Oak Park Nine Advances To State Legion Tourney

by BOB FRISK

For Coach Herb Reilly and his Oak Park ballplayers the route to Galesburg, Ill. included a detour through Arlington Heights.

But that is one detour the team was glad to make.

Sweeping to three straight victories, Oak Park captured the Cook County legion baseball title at Arlington's Recreation Park and advanced to the state finals which open in Galesburg, Friday, Aug. 8.

REILLY'S OUTFIT, composed of many of the players who led Oak Park to the Suburban League title last spring, used an impressive 11 inning, 3-2 win over Park Ridge Tuesday night to gain the title and also included along the victory trail a 6-1 win over Park Forest, third place finisher, and 4-3 decision over Park Ridge in Sunday's contest.

Right hander Bill Hunter, in relief of John Schoof, picked up the title win with a yield of only one hit in the final four frames. Rich Peterson, who took over for Jim Humay, absorbed the loss when he forced in the winning tally in the eleventh with a hit batsman.

Park Ridge jumped off to an early lead in the deciding tilt when Bob Kupczak walked and eventually scored in the opening frame. George Verber singled and tallied on Kupczak's line shot in the second to push Park Ridge ahead again after Oak Park knotted the count in the first on three straight safeties.

Oak Park gained the 2-2 deadlock in the seventh when catcher Tom Silvestri doubled leading off and scored on pinch hitter Bill Gordon's single.

THAT WAS the way the score stood until Oak Park's eleventh inning uprising. Don Olson led off with a single to right and moved to second when Bill Vance was safe on an interference call. Silvestri singled to load the bases; then with one out, Peterson caught Billy Vasey in the head with a fast ball, decking the Oak Park third sacker, and sending in the winning marker.

Oak Park was an impressive club throughout the tourney from its opening 6-1 win right through to the finale. Hunter gained the initial triumph with a six-hitter against Park Forest as Oak Park slapped out 10 hits, three by Silvestri, and tallied all its runs in a big third frame.

Park Ridge also copped an opening day victory when it surprised a disappointing Skokie club, 5-1, behind the righthanded slants of Humay. Humay yielded only four hits and faced no more than four batters in any inning. Right fielder Doug Ball lashed three hits to spark the attack.

PARK FOREST and Park Ridge gained the victories in Sunday's action with the former shocking Skokie and knocking the pre-tourney favorite out of the meet, 9-5.

Larry Buchholz settled down after two shaky innings against Skokie and hurled seven innings on a yield of only one hit, facing just three batters over the minimum. Catcher Bart Zeller, who won the tourney batting title with a .538 mark, carried the big bat in this win with a double and single and three runs batted in.

Checking a ninth inning rally, Oak Park gained a 4-3 win over Park Ridge Sunday with Bobby Reed going the route. Peterson went the distance for the losers and was only touched for seven hits, five in the first three segments. Center fielder Marv Staehle paced the winner's offense with three singles.

PARK FOREST blew a 7-1 lead and eventually fell, 9-7, Monday to Park Ridge. The winners needed only one hit to push across five runs in the sixth, added another in the seventh, then countered the deciding markers in the eighth on a single by Kupczak, one of the tourney's outstanding performers, two walks, and an error.

Humay, in relief of Bill Wagner, got the win with Jerry Buckmeier, who dropped the 6-1 decision to Oak Park, tagged with the defeat. Zeller had four hits for the losers and Gary Elliott and Bob Sadek added three each. Bill White, a .500 hitter for the tournament, collected three singles. (Sp

Doerr Hurls No-Hitter, Tops Cougars

The first no-hit, no-run game in the Rolling Meadows Senior Boys Baseball league was pitched by Owls Bob Doerr on July 27, who blanked the Cougars with a score of 5-0.

One of the original Pony League players in the city's youth baseball organization, Doerr acieved his almost flawless baseball record with fine control and good team support.

The Cougars, who recently received their new team uniforms and became almost unbeatable, had beat the Rangers 3-1 on July 22, and routed the Owls 10-0 on July 24.

OBVIOUSLY in the weatherman's doghouse, the Royals have been rained out in three recent ball games, leading the league in the category. To balance the schedule the Rangers will play only one game this week and one weekday game next week to allow the Royals to play their make-up games.

The Rangers will play a double header Sunday — against the Owls at 1:30 p.m. and against the Cougars at 3 p.m.

League standings as of July 31 were:

Hookers, Slicers Face Trouble In Inter-League Meet, Aug. 17

That Paddock tournament will be just like the movies on TV — the straight-shooters are sure to win.

That's the summary of Nordic Hills country club course where the slicers and hookers are going to have a devil of a time in the Paddock tournament Aug. 17.

The fairways are beautiful, many of them wide, but the clump of trees alongside the fairways and just beyond the greens are going to be murder on those golfers who can't seem to get just the right amount of power and direction to their drives.

THE PADDOCK Publications tournament Sunday, Aug. 17, will pit first place teams of 13 twilight leagues against each other for honors that include a large traveling trophy, 12 individual medals and a dozen golf balls. Leaders of the 13 leagues as of Saturday, Aug. 2, were eligible.

Deadline for entries is this Saturday, Aug. 9, at publication office. League secretaries are asked to get their entries in as early as possible, along with the $15 for greens fees for each foursome. List of foursomes in order of teeoff starting at 11:45 a.m., at Nordic Hills will be published in next week's sports pages.

SPORTS COLUMNIST G. A. McElroy of Paddock Publications has played the course looking for a hole-by-hole analysis for the benefit of tournament golfers.

"Mac" came up with the aforementioned observation "the straight-shooters should have little trouble. Hooks and slices, though, will cause plenty of grief. It's a course tough enough to challenge the better golfers, yet not too difficult for straight-shooting amateurs."

There are no sand traps on the course, but plenty of natural hazards make up for the lack of sand. Included to mar the tranquility of the golfers are several dog legs, many clumps of trees, and steep banks behind greens.

AH Swimmers Capture Second District Crown

A powerful Arlington swimming team gained its second straight Park District swimming championship, July 30, with an impressive total of 267.5 points in the nine team meet.

Coached by Tom O'Casek and Ken Bode, the local swimmers won the first annual meet in 1957, then held off the threats of Glen Ellyn, Park Ridge, and Wheaton to capture the '58 crown.

Glen Ellyn finished 30 points behind at 237.5 but after Wheaton's 220 total, the nearest team was Elgin with 99.

ARLINGTON gained 13 first places with Bobby Brown and Joan Keppen copping two firsts in individual events and also swimming on a victorious relay team. Brown and Miss Keppen both won trophies as the outstanding boy and girl swimmers.

Individuals from Arlington who gained first place awards in the meet include Margo Hauff, John Nelson, Marilyn Reed and Ruben Rocca. Arlington also garnered five victories in relay events with the following teams walking off with honors: Merkel, Sayre, Newhouse, and Sapieka; Brophy, Hauff, Dalton, and Reed; Brown, Raasch, Merkel, and Badford; Schaefer, Scott, Ocasek and Keppen; and Norman, Ocasek, Ruben Roca, and Rodolfo Roca.

Runner-up slots among the individual events for the local swimmers were compiled by Johnson, Nelson, Dalton, Ocasek, and Norman.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

THIS YEAR Tam-O-Shanter Golf Club and its owner George S. May refused to go along with the Professional Golfers Association in the manner of conducting their world championship golf tournament. The pros wanted to guarantee prize money in lesser amounts to most of the top pros competing so that they would be assured of expense money. May preferred to give $50,000 to the winner and small amounts to a limited number below first place. As a result the pros refused to attend and sanction May's tourney and it was dead. The owners of Gleneagles Golf Club near Lemont decided to take over the tournament date and worked out the details to the satisfaction of the pro group. At the Chicago Open at Gleneagles this past weekend the winner took a $9,000 prize and the rest of the $50,000 was split all the way down to the point where 27th place won $500 and the first 50 golfers got into the money.

Last weekend we were down at Gleneagles and followed Sam Snead, Jack Burke, Lionel Hebert, Dow Finsterwald, Don January, Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros, Fred Hawkins, and Johnny Revolta. We saw January birdie 3 holes in a row and Jack Burke do the same. That was the kind of golf which kept them in the running. The course was short but the greens sloping and tough and the pins placed so that long putts were often easier to hole out than the short ones. Burke and Boros tied for second one stroke behind the winner, Kenneth Venturi. Sam Snead was way down the list among the money winners but still had a big gallery of fans all the way. However, the younger golfers dominated tournament play at Gleneagles.

Probably no pro golfer ever made a greater comeback than did Bill Casper in the Gleneagles Open tourney. Casper took a 10 on one of the par 4 holes in the first of the 4 rounds of play and appeared entirely out of the picture with an 80. This could have been avoided had someone pointed out the ground rules to Casper. His drive lodged next to a bush which was in ground under construction with a local rule of dropping back without penalty. Casper took 3 tries at hitting the ball and then took a 2 stroke penalty to move the ball. After he had started hitting the ball there was nothing anyone could do to help him out of the jam in spite of the rules. The next 2 days Casper shot scores of 64 and got a 67 on the final round for a 275 and $1,900 prize money. He tossed away 5 strokes without hitting the ball on that nightmare hole and finished just 3 strokes behind the champion in the final tally.

A WEEK FROM Sunday Paddock Publications will hold its annual tournament for the twilight league leaders. The site of the tourney, Nordic Hills Golf Club, is one of the finest and most sporty daily fee courses available. Paddocks could not have secured a better spot to test the ability of the leading teams in the leagues of the area. There are plenty of trees, dog legs, water holes, and hills to add variety and hazards to the round of golf.

We have often wondered where the title "Western Golf Association" originated. It seemed to us that competition in the Western Open, Western Amater, Western Women's, and Western Junior tournaments drew players from all over the country. It seems that the Western Association was formed in 1899 as a protest against the monopoly and tyranny the East was exerting in the control of golf in the United States. Since then Chicago and Golf, Illinois, have been the headquarters for the western organization.

The Western Golf Association has been one of the first organizations to consider the importance of youth in sports. In 1914 WGA started the first national golf championship for teen agers—the Western Junior. WGA introduced the first scholarship program in sports—the famed Evans Scholars project, which since 1930 has provided college educations for deserving and needy caddies. This September there will be 370 ex-caddies attending college as Evans Scholars. Over 700 young men have graduated from college under this program.

It was in 1899 that the Western Golf Association came into being by sponsoring the Western Open and Western Amateur tournament at the Glen View Golf and Polo Club at Golf, Illinois. After 60 years the WGA is back in Golf, Illinois with its headquarters housed in a new building owned by WGA and the Evans Scholars Foundation and administering a program regarded as one of the best in the field of sports.

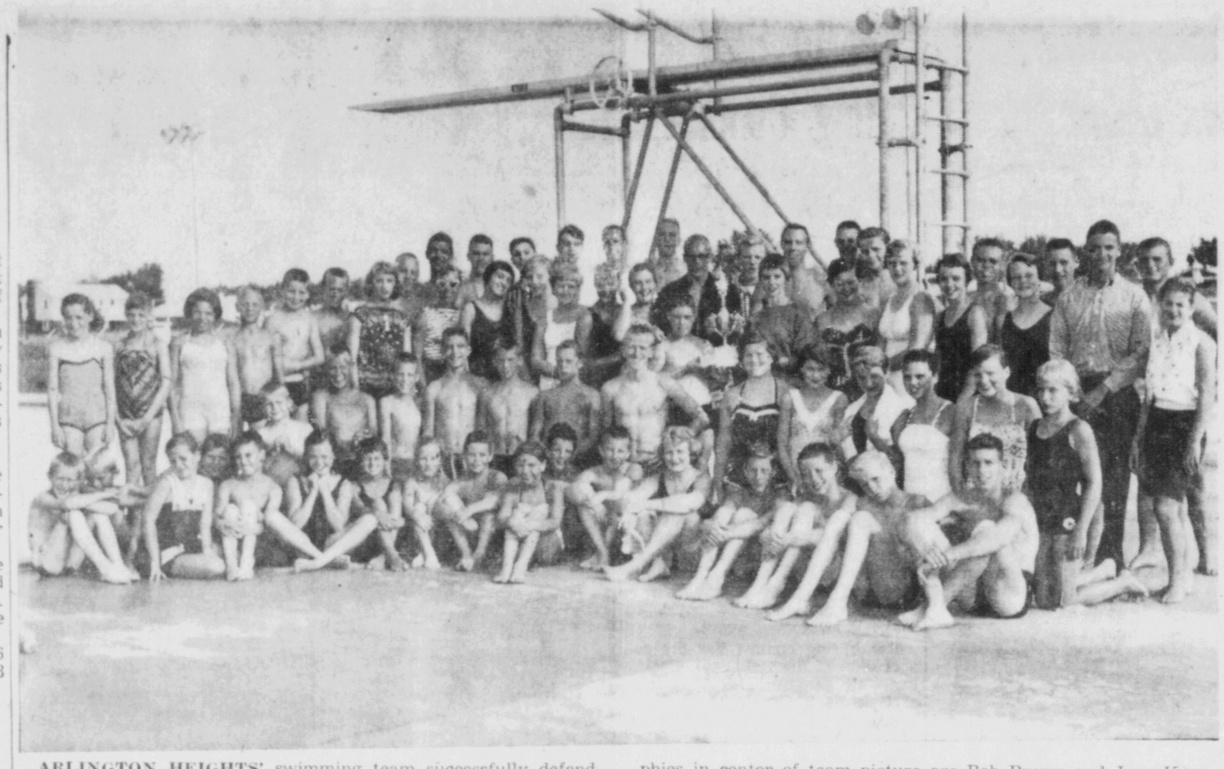
Trio Stands Out At St. Joseph's Training Camp

Three of the outstanding defensive players on the Chicago Bears' squad, Fred Williams, Doug Atkins and Bill George, are refusing to rest on their laurels. This trio, if anything, is showing more zip and skill than a year ago.

George made all-league middle guard for the second straight year. Atkins earned all-league defensive end, and Williams came in for "all" recognition as a defensive tackle. Williams also was named the winner of the Eisenhower Trophy in last year's annual Armed Forces Game, and will receive the award when the Bears meet the Cleveland Browns in this season's military tilt at Soldier Field on Friday night, September 12.



ARLINGTON HEIGHTS' swimming team successfully defended its championship in the second annual Northwest Park District title meet, July 30, at the Arlington pool. Holding trophies in center of team picture are Bob Brown and Joan Keppen, rated the best boy and girl swimmer. Both competitors won two individual races and swam on a winning relay unit.

Red Sox Claim LL Crown Of Arlington Heights

by BOB FRISK

Boston's Red Sox may be 15 or so games behind the New York Yankees in the Major Leagues, but Arlington's Red Sox aren't claiming second best to any team. They are the best!

Jack Hightower's powerful Sox swept past two opponents, using three games to turn the trick, to claim the Little League championship of Arlington Heights for 1958.

And they did it in decisive and impressive fashion, leaving no doubt as to what team deserved the major title of Little League baseball in Arlington.

TO GAIN the finals the Red Sox trimmed the Yankees, 7-1, with Merrill Kephart picking up a well-deserved mound triumph. Brodnan's triple with the bags jammed sent home the first three runs in the third and Chuck Lloyd drilled a 2-run single in the fifth. Jeff Haiduke drove in another counter in the sixth for insurance.

Kephart had eight strikeouts and only two walks in his six inning performance.

In the important World Series against the Cubs, winners of the National League playoff, Kephart and Brodnan handled the pitching chores in expert fashion although the latter was touched for eight hits in a 13-6 win. Kephart allowed only one safety in an impressive 3-0 victory.

STU FITZ-PATRICK'S Phillies rolled to the second half title in the Pony League to add to their first half crown. A 5-1 win over the Falcons aided the drive to the title in last week's play.

In Babe Ruth play the second half wound up in a tie between the Redlegs and Browns with the Redlegs copping the playoff, 3-1, behind Dave Brodnan. The second half champion Redlegs was scheduled to meet the first half winner Indians Tuesday night.

Several exciting affairs marked the week's action in Babe Ruth play with four one-hitters.

FRAN O'CONNELL, who has been on the short end of several well-pitched games this summer, twirled a one-hit masterpiece, July 28, as the Bears blanked the Indians, 5-0. O'Connell fanned 14 and walked only three in one of the season's top mound efforts.

Gregg Beckway hurled no-hit ball for five innings July 29 before Williams of the Lions slapped a double. The Browns' ace fanned 13 and walked four in a 5-0 win.

It comes as no surprise that Brodnan pitched a one-hitter July 31. Well-pitched games are as common with this right hander as they are with the Yankees' Bob Turey this summer. Brodnan's work against the Indians showed 12 strikeouts and four walks for a 3-0 win.

FRED EMPKIE pitched the final 1-hitter in an 0-0 deadlock between the Redlegs and Hawks. Empkie, who works for the Redlegs, fanned six and walked seven over the six innings. Defensive play took the spotlight in this tilt with several impressive stops by members of both clubs.

In final Babe Ruth play the Lions dumped the Hawks, 8-3, with Ward getting the win, and the Bears bounced the Hawks, 7-5, behind Pasvogel. (Sp

Roselle Golf

Bill's Barber Shop of the Roselle league outscored the Harve's Food Mart team 12 — 2 and climbed into first place by one point. Not only does this put them in first place with only one night to go but it also gives them the right to play in the Paddock tournament at Nordic Hills on August 17. The same two teams battle it out next week in the league's "position" night. Lee Buchholz continued to show us some real good golf with a two over par 38 which dropped him to a "3" handicap and moved him into the number one spot on his team for the final night of the season.

MP Little League Enters Final Week of Contests

by MARGE SIMPSON

Mt. Prospect's Little League is going into its last week of ball games with Lions meeting Bankers on Wednesday, July 30. Lions were the victors 4-1. Lions had 4 hits and Bankers 2. Koopman pitched for the winners with Durgin catching, and for the losers Stevens pitched with R. Kaspari catching. Durgin of the winners was the only one who got an extra base hit in the game and it was a 2-bagger. Winning Pitcher, Koopman; losing pitcher, Stevens.

July 31 brought a hot game between Country Club and Bruning with Country Club stacking up another win for themselves, 12-2. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of darkness. Stoike was winning pitched with Lytle catching. Hueckstead was losing pitcher with Barger catching. This was a 1-hitter for Stoike. Nice Stevens triples by Stoike and Bergen, doubles by Lytle, Bergan had 2 and Wolff also had a double. The bats were really swinging and connecting for Country Club.

SATURDAY, AUG 2 brought us a game between Builders vs. Bruning, with Builders back in the swing of things with a win of 19-11. All bats were going for the Builders. Bogart, Hope and Selle of the winning team had beautiful home runs. Simpson had a triple with bases loaded driving in three runs. Whitcomb and Hope also had doubles. For the losers, Barger had a home run and 2 doubles and Hueckstead also had a double. Winning pitcher was Mutert with Hope and Brooks catching. Losing pitcher, Gewecke with Barger catching.

3:30 on Saturday, Aug. 2, was a good game between VFW and Merchants with VFW the victors, 8-0. Koehler of the winning team had a home run, Richardson a triple and Krein a double. For the losers, Hogarty a triple and Wilkes a double. The VFW team was back at full strength after losing six boys at one time for the past two weeks due to vacations and Scout camp. Koehler, after being away for two weeks, came back and pitched a beautiful game, allowing no runs on five scattered hits. All the boys played heads up ball especially in the 6th inning when the bases were loaded with no outs, but finished the inning and the game without a run scoring. Well done boys! Winning pitcher was Koehler with Richardson catching. Losing pitcher, Wilkes with Dahlgren catching.

THE LAST GAME of the week was Professionals vs Bruning on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 3, with Pro's the victors 4-3. This was a fast game and a very good one. Kowal, Weber and Pastor were the stars for the Pro's team while Barger and Gewecke doubled and starred for the losers. Winning pitcher: Kowal; losing pitcher: Barger.

Lions and Professionals are tied for first place in the league with 15 wins and 3 losses, so a play-off game will be played by these teams on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 9, at 1:30 p.m. at Owens Field.

We'd also like to put in a plug for a very good game to be held on August 10 at Lions west ball diamond, 2:00 p.m., between the managers and coaches of the 10 Major League teams in Mt. Prospect. This should prove to be a very good game, so boys, don't miss seeing your manager and coaches play. Let's see if they can do what you boys have been doing all season. Don't miss this game. (Sp

Four Flight Champions Crowned in Amateur

The Koehler Golf Open, sponsored by Harold (George S.) Koehler of Koehler Electric of Bensenville, climaxed six weeks of grueling competition Saturday Aug. 2 on the "blood-drenched" fairways at White Pines Country club. From an original field of 56 in four different flights the "big lump" finally ended with all flights champs members of Bensenville Tioga VFW.

Local nurseryman and Arborvitae fancier Vic de St. Aubin shot a 75 to whip banker Wally Schloman in the Championship flight. Patrons of the Bensenville Bank are urged to pay no heed to any tear-strained greenbacks they may acquire in the next few days.

IN THE A flight "Plumbing Scott" Kinnaman trounced Glenn Constantino of Elmwood Park 3 and 2. "There were more Kinnamans in and around the gallery than divots," mumbled the harassed Constantino at the matches end.

The "Quiet Man" Dick Westlake vanquished his neighbor and opponent Bill Maier two up in a well played match to cop flight "B" honors.

Flight "C" found Harold "Jerry's Tavern" Schoo outlasting "Wandering Wilbur" Bill Burde to win one up at the 18th. T'was rumored that Burde was conducting a one man Dutch Elm beetle exterminating campaign equipped only with a driver.

AT 7:00 p.m., following the matches, more than 110 persons attended a banquet at the White Pines Country club. Trophies to the winners and runners-up were awarded with a special low medal award to Ken Fisher for his 74-75 qualifying rounds.

Art Martens will attend as team alternate.

The competition at Mt. Prospect is still hot. Black's Memorial has captured the coveted Paddock bid, but — the season is not over. The top five teams are within 9½ points, and some big matches can be expected during the balance of the season.

VFW Golf League

With only one more night of regular matches to play the VFW league race has become a two-team affair with the Georges leading the Bakers by two points and the rest of the teams falling off the pace. Closer competition prevails in the battle for the individual matches won trophy. Sam Rauworth leads with 9½ wins, but tied for second with 9 wins are Max Mayrer, Pete Bodor, and Bud Kreusch with both Rauworth and Kreusch scheduled as alternates next week, the issue may be settled when Mayrer and Bodor tangle in their final match.

Max Mayrer also now leads by two shots in the low net event after passing Dick Travosek. George Hanke has a big lead for the low gross trophy.

Low gross honors for the evening were taken by Stew Sage with a steady 35, and the low net went to Donald Chartrand with 47-14, net 33.

Extend Classic Bowling Campaign to 36 Weeks

Paddock Classic Traveling League season will be extended to 36 weeks as a result of a meeting Saturday of officers and rules committee at Beverly Lanes.

The league, stronger than ever this time with squads gearing for 940 averages, will open competition Saturday night, August 30, at Des Plaines bowling lanes. All six squads will be on hand to open the second year of play in the loop designed to give top-notch bowlers of the area the best competition possible.

PADDOCK CLASSIC Traveling League will represent the same six bowling alley establishments as last year, Hi-Way at Palatine, Beverly at Arlington Heights, Gunnell's at Mt. Prospect, Jeffery at Wheeling, Ten Pin at aBrrington and Des Plaines Bowling Lanes.

Exact sponsors have yet to be named, but rosters are being organized by team captains, aiming for 940, 30 pins higher than last year. This will mean the entire group of 36 bowlers will average about 188 per man, once again making this loop the strongest league in the suburban area.

THE LEAGUE will play a home-and-home schedule with two teams at each of three houses most Saturday nights, starting at 6:30. There will be six position nights: at Des Plaines August 30, at Jeffery November 15, at Hi-Way December 27, at Beverly January 3, at Gunnells March 21 and at Barrington May 2.

Championship roll-off is scheduled for May 9 at a neutral house, with banquet and awards night planned for May 16 or 23.

Playoff to Decide Tourney Entry from Wayside League

When the Lady of the Wayside league assembled Wednesday, July 30, at Chevy Chase to battle for the qualifying spot in the Paddock tournament, the weatherman threatened to cancel the matches but after deciding that the rain would not get any worse, the league officials gave the go-ahead sign. The results that followed had the whole league talking.

Going into the night's play, Gerbing Mfg. led by 1½ points. The second and third place teams met each other while Gerbing had a "breather" in facing 5th place Arlington Milk. Here are the results:

Third place Lauterburg & Oehler really poured it on with Earl Scherrer burning up the course with a 1 under par 35 on the front nine. He fired 3 birdies on his round to defeat Don Engstrom, Captain of Roll King, 4 and 3. Earl's score was the lowest recorded since the league organized. His net of 29 gave his team 2 of its 4 points. Pat Gilmore won on default from Dave Marini. Bob Ulbrich, Jr. beat Bob Pagliai in a finish that went right down to the wire. Joe Foreman of Roll King won 3 up over Tom Waldron and Tom McGrath (Roll King) won by default over Bob Casey. Score L & 0-4; Roll King—3.

WITH THE SECOND and third place teams in a virtual standstill, Gerbing needed only one point to go to the Paddock tournament but that point was not to be had. Arlington Milk played its finest golf of the year to fashion a 6½-½ victory over the league leaders. Mert Taylor (Arlington Milk) shot a 1 over par 37 on the back nine to beat Frank Plennert (Gerbing) 5 and 3. His 37 was the lowest ever shot on the back nine for the league and second only to Scherrer's 35. His 28 net was low for the night and the year and led the way to Gerbing's collapse. Bob Botterman (Arl. Milk) took Chuck Cronin (Gerbing) 2 up. It was Lou Stefanik (Arl. Milk) over Augie Bonucchi 2 and 1. Howie Jack defeated Bob Ulbrich Sr. on the last hole for the milkmen Dalleslarger tied. Oscar's-point gave Gerbing a tie for the league lead and the two teams, Roll King and Gerbing, will play it off for the honor of playing in the tournament.

Continental Can shaded Garden Liquor 3½ to 2½. Point makers for C.C. included Hank Wist, Dick Ulbrich, and Howie Johnson. Jim while Jordan Italia and Oscar Howard and Jack Boland registered for the liquor store with Jim Howard gaining low net.

Illinois Range Captures Berth In Tournament

Monday, July 28, saw the Illi-7½ pts. and move from a second nois Range company team score place tie into first place by 2½ pts. This victory was doubly important because the night's play also determined who was to represent the Monday night division of the League in the Paddock Tournament, August 17. It was position night with Illinois Range playing the Mt. Prospect Savings & Loan team and the Kirchhoff Insurance team playing Pickett.

Kirchhoff and Pickett split the points up the middle, each getting 5. So Illinois Range's victory over the Savings and Loan team put them in first place and also gave them the right to compete in the Paddock Tournament.

Birdies for the night were as follows: Sobol No. 7, Leutz No. 15, Hawkinson No. 12, Newgard No. 15, Michgelson No. 11, Benda No. 10.

100-Lap Title Race Friday At O'Hare Oval

Drivers representing at least five states and the three top speedways in Chicagoland, O'Hare Stadium, Raceway Park and Soldier Field, will square off for the first 100-lap National Championship for new-late model stock cars ever presented at O'Hare on Friday night.

From Florida will come O'Hare's two-time champion, Gene Marmor of Pompano Beach, while Kentucky will be represented by Bill Lutzo of Louisville. Don Oldenberg of Highland and Stewart Joyce of Indianapolis will be on hand for Indiana with Hal Ruyle of St. Louis the representative for Missouri.

CHICAGO ITSELF will have such stars as Whitey Gerken and Bill Van Allen on the entry list while the suburban area that has been so successful to date at O'Hare will be ably in the running with such as Fred Lorensen of Elmhurst and Bud Koehler and Bob Pronger, both of Blue Island.

A special thrill show doubleheader is slated at O'Hare Saturday starring modified and Cadet stock cars. The new-late models will return on Sunday with the Cadets and a demolition race carded next Wednesday. Gates open nightly at 6 p.m. with the first race always at 8:30.

Injured Player May Force Club Out of Tourney

Oak Brook Polo Club is awaiting word on whether the broken back suffered by Northrup R. Knox will force the Aurora, N.Y., team to withdraw from the National Open Polo Tournament to be played in Hinsdale from Aug. 31 through Sept. 7.

Knox, a member of the board of governors of the United States Polo Association, received a fracture of the vertebra in a collision of ponies during a game in the east last weekend.

Funeral Home Wins Match, Gains Paddock Golf Bid

Rain threatened to interfere with the final night of qualifying play, Wednesday night, July 30, in the St. James league. All teams got off, however, after a little delay. The results were the same, anyway. Lauterburg & Oehler kept its hold on first place by taking five points from Prospect Hts. Pharmacy. Bryant led the winners with a net of 35, while Bolash got the lone point for the losers with a net of 32.

Glueckert's jumped into second position, only 3½ points behind the leaders. Rapp's Restaurant held pace with the leaders, taking five points from D. W. Henney Co. Kindler's Ice Cream again blanked their opponents, taking six points from Errickson's Boosters. This moved them into a tie for fifth place, only six points behind the leaders. With three weeks to go six teams have to be considered in the running for the league championship. Two regularly scheduled nights and then a position night will tell the story.

Individual honors for the night and the season to date went to Jerry Rogers of Rapp's Restaurant team. Jerry shot a 37 scratch and 27 net.

Driving Range Cops Tournament Berth

Elston Driving Range captured the lead in the Rob Roy Tuesday night loop to give that team the honor of representing the league in the forthcoming Paddock tourney.

The big guns in this important 7-0 win over J. L. Stearns & Co. were Bob Lee with a par breaking round of 34 to give him a net of 31 and No. 4 man Leon Kazmierczak, 41-11 for a low net of 30. The other two members also did more than their share with Dick Ackerman in the No. 2 spot shooting 37-5 net 32 and Irv Rybicki 41-6 for a net 35.

DICK CRAIG shot a two-under par 34 on the back nine to give him a low net 30 for flight honors in the No. 1 group. Norvel Funk came through with an even par 35-5, net 30 to walk off with top honors in the No. 2 flight group.

Berney Magneson fired a 38-6 net 32 to top the No. 3 flight men. And the final score not to be overlooked altogether was by Don Hager who had an ever par 36 on the back nine to lead Webber Paint to a 6-1 victory over Jacobs Hardware.

Barber Shop Gains Berth Despite Loss

Moler's Barber Shop will represent the Tuesday night division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight league in the annual Paddock Publications tournament. This despite a decisive 7½-2½ trimming last Tuesday at the hands of the challenging second place Mount Prospect Bowling Lanes team. A clean 10-point sweep in position night play by the Bowling Lanes would have dislodged the Barbers from their first place berth and given the bowlers the nod for the tournament by one point.

The lowly Mt. Prospect Jewelers were the only ones to benefit much from the position night matches. They captured a big 10 points from Busse Motors and thus boosted themselves from nowhere up to within an 8 iron shot of third place.

Licht's Paint Store and Hank's Pure Oil battled it out to a 5-5 draw leaving Lichts in possession of third place by 5/6 of a point.

Birdies weer reported by Alex Sekus No. 7 and Clayton Lyons No. 16.

No Major Loop Changes In Rob Roy Ladies Golf

Team play on July 31 in the Rob Roy Ladies Golf League found very few changes in the team standings. Town & Country continued in first place when B. Boylan's 37 net sparked them to a 6-point win over Arlington Pharmacy. Webber's took 5½ points from Spiegler's as Capts. C. Stoddard and I. Ciecko tied the net point with a 38. I. Ciecko was on the right track on hole 7, when she sunk her approach shot.

Capt. L. Lewin's 39 helped Prairie Lee garner 3 points from O'Hare, enough to hold their position. Next week Arlington Pharmacy challenges Prairie Lee. This could change the third position slot. B. Brower carded a 37 to save the net point for Senne's, but Keefer's still took 4½ points from them.

CAPT. H. BOND'S 32 net led Morava to a 7-point victory over Heights Liquors. This knocked Heights to the also-ran spot. B. Weaver's 35 won the net point for Hagenbring's, but Des Plaines Liquors hung on to halve the match.

The weekly event was odd holes. Th first three positions played the front nine, and the last two positions played the back. The winners are as follows:

Lee's 36 Paces State and Rand To Meet Berth

State and Rand Service will be the scratch league's representative in the forthcoming Paddock Golf tournament. With Bob Lee's 36 leading the way they subdued stubborn Peterson Floor 4½-2½ to increase their lead to three points, the largest margin enjoyed by any team since league play started. Playing for State and Rand will be Bill Hugo, Jim Keane, Gene Doyle, Bob Lee and E. McAuliff.

In other important league matches Len Arnold's 38 paced second place L-Nor Cleaners to a 4 to 3 win over Lattof Motors. Lohr's Pharmacy with Dan Musser shooting 36, moved back into fourth place by soundly whipping Griffith Insurance 6½-½.

BEN KRONN just missed tying the league record for nine holes as he dropped in four birds on Old Orchards back nine to shoot a three under par 33. His only bogey came at 18 where he three putted after reaching the green in one.

Bruning's Sales Outlook Brighter

Sales and net profit of Charles Bruning Company, Inc., Mt. Prospect, were at favorable levels for the six months ended June 30, Herbert F. Bruning, president, reported today.

He noted that while they reflect a decrease from last year's operations for the first six months, they also show an increase over the last six months of that year.

Based on this trend and the more favorable general business outlook, he expects further improvement in sales and profits during the last six months of 1958. He expects this will come during the last quarter after the usual summer slowdown due to vacation periods.

Sales amounted to $19,108,097 for the first six months of 1958 as compared with sales of $20,426,730 for the first half of 1957 and $17,898,886 for the last six months of last year.

EARNINGS WERE $1,018,526 for the 1958 period compared with $1,519,912 for the first six months of 1957 and $920,391 for the last half of 1957. After preferred dividends, earnings were equal to $1 per share compared with $1.50 in the first half and 90 cents in the last six months of 1957.

Earnings in the second quarter ended June 30, 1958, amounted to $505,963 equal to 50 cents per common share, compared with $759,798 or 75 cents per share in the like quarter of 1957. Sales for the second quarter were $9,408,137 compared with $10,215,983 in the corresponding quarter of 1957.

Commenting on favorable factors that should affect the future growth of the company, Bruning said the company has continued its expanded sales organization despite the general decline in business conditions, and is geared to a higher level of operations than achieved in the first six months of 1958.

In addition, the company's development of new copying machines and materials utilizing electrostatic principles of reproduction is proceeding satisfactorily and these new products are now being field tested. If tests are as favorable as expected, these new products will be placed in production by the end of this year.

The Charles Bruning company is a leading manufacturer of reproduction machines and materials under the trade name "Copyflex" and distributes a broad line of engineering, drafting, architectural equipment and materials.

Pays Out $46 Million

The Prudential Insurance company announced today its payments to Illinois policyholders and beneficiaries during the first six months of 1958 amounted to an estimated $46,058,000, according to Henry C. Bauer, manager of the Palatine district.

This represents an increase of approximately $3,900,000 over the amount paid during the corresponding period in 1957 and includes all types of claim payments, dividends and other insurance benefits, Bauer said.

Total Prudential payments in the United States and Canada reached an all-time record of $667,503,000 and exceeded the 1957 six-month payments by $56,862,000. (BB

For thirty years, this was the home of Paul Revere. It was from here he set forth on April 18, 1775 to warn the countryside, "the British are coming!" The clapboard walls of this house have been treated with Cabot's Stains at 7 to 8 year intervals ever since 1892 because only Cabot's Stains

Brickman Opens New Model Homes

The first four models of 190 homes in Mt. Prospect on a 43-acre area bounded by Elmhurst rd., Forest ave., Highland ave. and Foundry rd. will be open for public inspection Friday, Joseph M. Brickman, president of Brickman Home Builders, has announced.

All the models are three bedroom homes on fully improved lots which are a minimum size of 55 feet by 132 feet. Overall dimensions of the four homes are 28 feet 4 inches by 38 feet.

The models, designed by A. J. Del Bianco, will include: face brick, oil heat, birch cabinets, built-in range and oven, hood fan, full basement in ranch houses, birch doors, tile bath and powder room.

Brickman has been in the construction industry for 34 years and has built 7,000 homes since 1946. He has also been active in commercial and institutional building. Brickman has done most of his building in north and northwestern suburban communities.

Arlington Market Signs Schneller Furniture Co.

SCHNELLER FURNITURE CO., INC., this week became the 15th store to sign up for Arlington Market shopping center in Arlington Heights. Shown signing his lease is Joseph Schneller, president of the furniture store now located in Prospect Heights, with Richard H. Sampson (left) representing developers of the Market, and John Hass (right) attorney for Schneller Furniture. The new store opens October 1.

Schneller Furniture Co., Inc., is the newest tenant to join a growing community of stores at Arlington Market shopping center in Arlington Heights.

Announcement of the new store was made Thursday by Richard H. Sampson, partner of Farr, Chinnock & Sampson real estate firm, developers of Arlington Market.

SCHNELLER FURNITURE has been located in Prospect Heights shopping center since 1955 and will open its new facilities in Arlington Market October 1. The Prospect Heights store will close September 30.

"We are very pleased to welcome Schneller Furniture to the Market," declared Sampson, "particularly since we have been most careful to group only high quality stores in this development. Schneller's operation fits in beautifully with our program, and the addition of a quality furniture store is another step in our effort to develop an integrated one-stop shopping center for Arlington Heights and northwest suburbs. Schneller has established an enviable reputation for fine merchandise in the Chicago area."

Arlington Market now has 15 stores leased with three small shops still unrented. Present plans call for construction of the center's second section next spring. The new unit, to be about as large as the present one, will also include a junior department store.

THE NEW ARLINGTON Market location will provide Schneller Furniture with more than 5,000 square feet of display space.

"Our new store will have an extensive colonial department," explained Joseph Schneller, president of the company, "as well as a carpeting department specially designed by Carol Winslow, head interior decorator for the Gullistan co. We shall also feature a complete selection of contemporary and French Provincial furniture as well as the better lines of all furniture and fine accessories."

Schneller added that he plans to open his new store with all new stock. To avoid moving costs, he is staging a giant removal sale at his Prospect Heights location with "radically reduced rates."

Schneller Furniture co. started in 1948 at a Michigan ave. location in Chicago, following the trend to suburbia in 1955 with a move to Prospect Heights.

"Arlington Market is centrally located for our customers," said Schneller, "and we will be better able to serve them with expanded facilities at a more convenient location." (BB

Traffic Up At O'Hare

More than 1,025,000 passengers boarded or deplaned from United Air Lines' Mainliners at Chicago during the first six months of 1958, the first time any airline has passed the million mark in a January-June period, the company has reported. United's 1957 six-month traffic here totaled 994,000 passengers.

According to Morgan Nickell, district sales manager, Midway traffic in the first half of this year declined to 831,000 passengers, a 3 per cent drop from the same 1957 period, but traffic at O'Hare spurted 42 per cent to 194,000 passengers.

The company's air cargo totals also showed substantial increases at O'Hare, Nickell said, with air mail up 13 per cent, air express up 54 per cent and air freight up four per cent. Midway totals showed air mail up four per cent, express up 6 per cent and air freight off one per cent.

During the first half of 1958, United's Mainliners made 28,508 landings or take-offs at Midway, a two per cent drop from the 1957 period while O'Hare operations increased 30 per cent to 5,817 movements. (BB

Photographer Is Honored for Work

JAMES R. CONLEY of Rolling Meadows prepares to photo the photomicrograph of salad dressing which won him honors from the Professional Photographers of America, Inc.

James R. Conley, 2500 Cardinal dr., Rolling Meadows, has been honored by an elite group of his fellow professional photographers.

The Professional Photographers of America, Inc., represented by several of its prominent members, selected one of his photographs for exhibit at the 67th annual convention and trade show of the PPA held July 20-25 at the Hilton hotel, Chicago.

Conley's accepted work was titled "Emulsified French Dressing" and was a photomicrograph magnified 5,000 times. He is an industrial research photographer for the research and development division of National Dairy Products corp. and a staff photographer for Paddock Publications.

THE CHOICE OF his photo was made by a Jury of Selection comprising holders of the Master of Photography degree, highest honor PPA confers on qualified members. Outstanding prints in the exhibit are chosen for the PPA's Loan collection which tours the country during the year.

From some 5,000 prints sent in by photographers as their best work, more than 1,000 were accepted for display.

New England Realtor Hails Newspapers as Ad Media

"Newspaper advertising is the real estate industry's most potent sales weapon," a leading Quincy, Mass., realtor told New England Realtors at their ninth annual convention held recently in Manchester, Vt.

"It produces more in sales per dollar spent than does any other media," continued speaker F. Lester Morrill.

He said it was not unusual for his office to receive more than 300 replies to a 50-line one column ad in a metropolitan newspaper, or 100 replies from a two inch column ad in local newspapers.

"EVERY NEWSPAPER audience can produce sales for a broker if his sales message interests them," he declared. "Too many brokers miss the responses they could easily get because they fail to spend sufficient time and care in preparing their advertising."

"To keep our staff of 30 salesmen supplied with prospects, we must get a consistent call-in and walk-in traffic from newspaper advertising," he commented, "To insure this, we spend nearly as much for time used in preparation of advertising as we do for cost of space."

Scientific Traffic Signs Increase Tollway Safety

ILLINOIS TOLLWAY SIGNS nearly ready. Construction of nearly 4,000 scientifically designed green and white highway traffic signs for the Illinois Tollway is underway at Federal Sign and Signal Corporation's Chicago plant at 8700 S. State St. The firm has been awarded a $733,226 contract to build and install all traffic signs on the new super turnpike. Inspecting the signs and discussing installation plans are Federal president William W. Scott, (left) George L. Jackson, (right) chief engineer, Illinois Toll Highway Commission, and William F. Bauch, (center) traffic engineer, Illinois Toll Highway Commission.

Scientifically designed highway traffic signs, incorporating a number of advancements and new outdoor visual techniques, will increase the safety of your ride on the new Illinois Tollway.

Nearly 4,000 dark green and white direction signs are now in construction at Federal Sign and Signal corporation's Chicago plant at 8700 South State st. The Illinois Toll Highway Commission has awarded a $733,226 contract to the firm for construction and installation of all traffic signs on the new turnpike.

FEDERAL WILL install a major portion of these signs on the 76-mile Northwest Tollway from O'Hare Field, Chicago International Airport, to South Beloit, and the 30-mile northern stretch of Tri-State Tollway from Edens Highway to the Wisconsin state line. Both sections presently are scheduled to open in August. The rest of the system is scheduled to be ready by December 31, 1958.

William W. Scott, president of the sign building firm, nation's leading producer of traffic signs for roads and turnpikes, reported that the total sign area under construction exceeds 100,000 square feet. The project involves 200,000 pounds of aluminum for the signs, and 260,000 pounds of steel for the support structures.

Signs on the new turnpike will be larger than those seen on most highways, and they will be able to be seen from a greater distance both during the day and at night, Scott said. The longest sign under construction is 26 feet in length, and the tallest stands 14 feet high. Approximately 25,000 letters and numerals will be included in the signs, and 40,000 feet of reflectorized border will be used.

INNOVATIONS include the use of intensely reflective backgrounds - as well as letters - on signs providing directions at key interchanges and on entrance and exit ramps. With the entire area of the sign visible at night, they can be seen from much greater distances than conventional direction signs.

On the intricate Northwest-Tri-State interchange at O'Hare Field, and at the toll booths, specially designed signs with brilliantly reflectorized backgrounds illuminated by fluorescent lamps will be located strategically. All of the reflective letters, numerals, and borders on the extruded aluminum signs contain prismatic optical lenses which cause them to shine at night almost as brightly as automobile headlights.

About 15,500 delineators, small silver prismatic "cat's eyes" will clearly mark the shoulders of the road along its entire length.

CONSTRUCTION of a majority of the signs employs interlocking aluminum extrusions, developed by Federal engineers to provide maximum strength and durability for the relatively lightweight directional aids.

According to Scott, the importance of modern highway sign design is underscored by the fact that inadequate signs can constitute a safety hazard as drivers slow down or swerve off course to peer at them. He said an additional safety feature of the Illinois Tollway is that an adequate number of signs have been ordered to provide complete and safe guidance to drivers. As an example, signs warning that a toll booth stop is ahead are posted a full mile away - actually less than one minute of driving time.

In the last two years, Federal has produced more than $3 million worth of turnpike traffic signs, including control signs for the Calumet Skyway in Chicago, and for the entire Connecticut toll road program. In addition, it has completed sign programs for turnpikes in Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Kentucky, and New York. (BB

Paper Missed by Readers

During a recent 67-day strike against the Peoria Journal-Star, radio and TV news coverage and advertising couldn't take the place of the job done by the newspaper, a Journal-Star follow-up survey revealed.

Information was gathered from some 500 families to determine what people missed most by not reading their newspapers. Following are some of the highlights of the survey, entitled "When a City Loses its Newspaper."

NEWS WAS THE number one category missed most by families; 82 per cent reported insufficient news from radio and television.

Forty-eight per cent depended largely on the newspaper for ads on sales; 42 per cent for food purchases.

Some 94 per cent prefer newspapers with advertising; 51 per cent radio and 48 per cent TV with ads.

Seventy-six per cent reported insufficient details from radio about products, services, and sales; 68 per cent TV.

In normal times newspapers advertising was voted first in 91 per cent of homes surveyed as top source for shopping news.

Choice Army Assignments To Graduates

High school graduates are still being offered the choice assignments under the Army Technical Training program, it was announced this week by Master Sergeant Chester Skinner in charge of the army recruiting station, located in the post office building in Evanston.

Sergeant Skinner reports that the army has over 150 different technical courses to choose from. They range from guided missile operation to finance, radar to welding, X-ray to machine accounting, and many other types of training for career minded young men.

Skinner also said that a school is guaranteed the applicant before he enlists. His application is forwarded to Washington and he is not required to enlist until he receives approval from the Secretary of the Army. Even then, he is under no obligation should he decide to change his mind. (WUS

Hoffman Estates Unveils Woodridge Model Home

The newest model home in Hoffman Estates was unveiled Saturday. The model, named the Woodridge, is a three-bedroom home with attached garage, costing $19,000.

Situated on a fully improved 80 by 130 foot lot, the Woodridge has an exterior of clay face brick and "Insulite" siding with a choice of exterior paints.

The living-dining room combination is 26 feet long with 20 feet of floor-to-ceiling windows. The master bedroom includes "His" and "Hers" closets.

Each of the two bathrooms has colored fixtures, a large medicine cabinet, vinyl tile floor. The first bathroom also has a bath wall mirror, Formica top vanity and exhaust fan.

According to Jack Hoffman, president of Hoffman Community Developers and builder of Hoffman Estates, "With the addition of the exciting, new Woodridge to our roster of fine homes, we now have something for everybody.

I know from experience, that dollar for dollar, the values we offer at Hoffman Estates are the best to be found in the Chicagoland area, and proof of this is the fact that in this area now stands over 1,200 homes where four years ago there were none.

"This, I believe proves beyond anything I can say, that the home values for better family living and a better community is to be found in Hoffman Estates."

Summer Skiing Is Popular in France

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Skiing in the summertime without snow is a favorite French sport. Thousands of people in France do it every year.

The sport is especially popular around the Bordeaux area. Here, ski-runs are made on pine needles. A two-foot-thick layer of these needles is spread along the entire length of a slope. This makes a slippery base for a slalom run.

This variation of skiing is claimed to be infinitely more difficult than the winter version. The pine needles provide a smooth, even surface. But they lack the binding effect of snow. As a result, many more spills are encountered on this kind of a course.

SUCH SUMMER skiing is taken quite seriously by its devotees. It keeps them in trim for the winter snow. In fact, the pine needle course is recommended for any French skier wanting to appreciably sharpen his balance and control.

Inter-club competitions are somewhat common in the dead of summer and attract a large public. One sees the skiers and spectators dressed in shorts — sometimes even in bathing suits — and sport shirts. Ice cream salesmen circulate among the crowds. The usual price for admission to an event of this kind is four-hundred francs, or one dollar.

A TYPICAL pine-needle skiing spot can be found on the outskirts of Arcachon, near Bordeaux. This is a summer resort town on the coast, possessing a very fine beach. It is not uncommon to see bathers waxing up their skis while sun bathing on the sand. Later, as a diversion from swimming, they drive over to one of the slopes that has been especially prepared for them.

Warning signs are prominently posted for the benefit of the sceptics and the foreigners. A typical one reads: "Extreme Caution: Course No Less Slippery Than Frozen Snow Or Ice."

- Editor Supports Deneen vs. Yates
- Arlington has Water Troubles, Well No. 2 Needed
- Stories of Family of Arlington Centenarian
- Arlington Race Track sold for $1,000,000

50 Years Ago

August 7, 1908

The editor has read both sides of the Yates-Deneen controversy and after careful consideration we have concluded that Charles S. Deneen is a safer man for the dignified office of Governor of Illinois than Richard Yates. Each has held the office four years, and they with many of their friends have each bitterly criticized the other's public administration. A person who reads only one side, from one paper, cannot be a fair judge. Men's minds are warped by influence, patronage and money.

The metropolitan press are more prone to be partisan than a local newspaper that deals direct with the people of all classes. The editorial opinions of this paper cannot be bought at any price. We stand for the rights of fair minded, common people and would not knowingly mislead anybody.

The search light of this advanced Theodore Roosevelt age, has been thrown vigorously on Governor Deneen, yet the record of his administration will stand well in comparison with his predecessors. Ex-Governor Yates seems to have gone mad in his desperate efforts to regain his former stand at the public crib. We must beware of his biased opinions.

ARLINGTON Village Board at their regular meeting Monday night discussed several schemes to increase water supply. It has not been decided whether it will be necessary to sink a second and larger well 10 or 12 inches in diameter about 120 feet deep, or if by attaching a pump or air compressor the present 5-inch well can be made to furnish sufficient water for a few years yet.

The question now is will this board abandon all the work done by their predecessors and let the engineers talk them into a grand fashionable system costing $40,000 to $100,000? Such is the present trend unless they are brought back to our real needs and stop creating big municipal debts.

The Board should not, under any circumstances, enter into any percentage basis that will allow the engineers and contractors to put up job and prices. We don't want any more experiences like we had with Emerson, nor taint of boodleism. Arlington Heights is not wealthy and can't afford to pay extra fancy prices for our mediocre requirements.

It makes no difference whether the money is raised by special assessment or general taxation, those in authority should remember they are only public servants and should do business the same as if they were personally paying the bills with no rebates or commissions. In the recent case of the water works the remark was often made "Oh that comes out of the special assessment," as if it didn't matter how much the engineers, court and lawyer's fees were.

The editor is on vacation this week and next, and the fighting editor is in charge. All having quarrels to settle, should call at once.

PALATINE — August Remus, after serving his patrons with milk for twelve years has sold his milk route to William Bierman, who takes charge at once. August won't say what he is going to do with the fortune he had made at the business, but it is rumored he intends to purchase a farm out west. Mr. Bierman having his own cattle, will be able to give his customers the highest grade of milk.

The Libertyville rooters were the most rabid bunch ever seen at a base ball game. They made some of the most personal and insulting remarks to the Palatine players that a ball team ever had to stand for.

Palatine defeated Libertyville Sunday, in the fastest snappiest ball game ever seen in this section, by the score of 4 to 2. Each team had one game to its credit, and were out to win, it being conceded that the winner would hold the hoodoo of being the fastest team in Northern Illinois.

Palatine — The southside married men defeated the northside married men last Saturday, in an exciting and an interesting game of ball as seen on the home grounds this season. The score stood 7 to 6. The northside fans were more numerous and, of course, were able to make the more noise. Banker Patten and Lawyer Harz acted as umpires. P. H. Matthei surprised not only his friends, but also himself by the way he was able to meet the ball. He was easily the star. Principal Smyser deserves some of the honors for his work on third. A. Mundhenk had 17 strike-outs to his credit.

Roselle — Invitations are out for a grand, large Lawn party to be held at the home of Misses Lilian and Adaline Hanson, Aug. 15. As the Hansons are royal entertainers, the young people expect to have a fine time.

Hanover — All neighbors and friends who helped haul material for Henry Fientge's new dwelling were invited to celebrate last Saturday night in the latest style from 7 o'clock p.m. till 5 o'clock next morning; refreshments and all kinds of drinks also a swell midnight supper was served by his wife. Fine music was furnished by H. W. Heine Jr. concertina and his assistant bass violin. Everybody danced so the new house was dedicated. H. Fientge and wife hope that their neighbors and friends got satisfied.

Ed Curtis says if he would be as dry as the roads are now he wouldn't stand it long; he would soon lay down and leave his $500 and the interest for some one else.

Schaumburg — William Japp and wife are the happy parents of a baby girl, born Aug. 3.

If you haven't got a white cap then you ain't a Schaumburg sport.

Itasca — Mr. Louis Rosenwinkel and Miss Amanda Schaper were united in marriage at Itasca Lutheran church Sunday.

The Carl Goltermann barn on the Hy Landmeier's farm is nearly finished.

Bensenville — Walter Franzen celebrated his 17th birthday with a number of friends July 30.

Judge Bell tried the case of Hy Eickelman vs. Albert Knaak on account of Knaak's dog killing 37 ducks and three geese on July 14. A. Knaack did not deny the charge, but brought in a counter bill against Eickelman in which he claimed that Eickelman's turkeys, on an estimate, ate 7 baskets of cherries and destroyed a ton of his hay this summer. The jury awarded a verdict of $15 damages due Hy Eickelman.

Hy Eickelman has promised Judge Bell an invitation to the Thanksgiving turkey dinner this fall which will be served a la cherries.

WILLIE MEIER has a grand party in honor of his 23rd birthday at the home of his parents two miles north of Arlington Heights Aug. 1. Meier and Kastning furnished fine music for dancing. Many friends including his fiance were present to make him happy, also Henry Freize, Christina Kirchhoff and others will soon start homes of their own.

Arlington Heights— Miss Minnie Schneider is stenographer at Berbecker's store while Miss Lillian Sigwalt is taking her vacation.

Why all this extreme heat and drought? Is it because a majority of the people — especially farmers, are not planning to take part and vote right at the primaries? "Oh Lord forgive all of us sinners and send rain on both the just and unjust. We repent for fear of dire consequences. Please send the needed rain, refresh the Earth and all her inhabitants, even the opposing parties."

40 Years Ago

August 9, 1918

In a little house on Euclid ave. dwells Arlington Heights' most prominent citizen. August 2, was the anniversary of the day of her birth and she says it was the happiest birthday of her entire life. There, in the house which has been her home for over 50 years, Mrs. Mary Kennicott, received congratulations. The little remembrances her friends brought were fruit, candy and last but not least, onions.

The food professors of today would hold their hands up in horror at the thought of such a diet on one's 97th birthday. But this woman has lived longer than any of them and no amount of logic can camouflage the fact that Mrs. Kennicott is the picture of health.

She was born in 1821 in Lisbon, N. H. as the daughter of Rev. John Nason. Miss Mary led the life of a circuit rider's daughter with frequent change of habitation. Her father traveled great distances by horseback to spread the gospel among the hills of Vermont. In 1838 she came with her parents by team all the way from Main to Chicago, taking 7 weeks for the trip. Arriving in Illinois, the family settled on a farm in Elk Grove.

Rev. Nason entered the Rock River conference in 1838 and continued his work as a pastor. Often, while making trips to Half Day, Ill., his daughter accompanied him. It was at these church services that one John Kennicott admired from across the pews, the parson's daughter.

The young lady knew naught of this, until one memorable day when the young man came to Elk Grove acourting. In those days romance traveled faster than now and on August 2, 1841, Miss Mary became the bride of Joseph E. Kennicott. The couple lived at the "Mill" in Half Day until 1853, when Mr. Kennicott purchased the farm of his father-in-law.

Two sons and two daughters were born. They were educated at the Northwestern University, which Walter, the eldest was attending when Capt. Beveridge, later Governor of Illinois, raised a company among the students and Walter enlisted. Receiving a mortal wound at Gettysburg, he was buried in the Antietam cemetery. Albert, the other son, died in Arlington Heights in 1876. One of her daughters Mrs. Carrie Hilton, died three years ago. The other daughter, Mrs. Eva Williams, resides with her mother. Mrs. Kennicott is the last of the original Kennicotts.

George Wickersheim was born at Aptakisic in 1850. He died July 28. His funeral was held at the Long Grove church. In 1872 he married Caroline Sigwalt. He leaves a widow and two sons to mourn him.

Palatine — Auctioneer Frank Gahlbeck is the new meat cutter at the Devermann market. He is as handy behind the counter with his white apron and the meat saw as he is on the auction block with that handy cane.

WHEELING is being swamped by autos, one continual stream day and night. The auto people do not seem to realize folks want to sleep. They stop all hours of the night and disturb one's slumber by profuse language, boisterous laughing and hollering.

Wheeling Presbyterian church has been one of the first to respond to the request of General Assembly that the church bells be rung at high noon each day as a call to prayer for victory.

War continues to be the chief topic. Arthur Fassbender is about the last to be called from Wheeling.

Wheeling has been a little slow until of late. Harvest was demanding all the attention. But during the past week enough entertainment of a certain kind has been supplied to make the most languid look up. Mr. Conrad Reeb started the ball rolling by calling some reckless automobile driver to account. Since then things have been moving fast. Automobile accidents come so frequently that it is hard to keep track of them. They don't attract much attention. Sunday afternoon the village was given a little change in the shape of two captured automobile thieves. This kept the interest until 12 o'clock at night when Judge Gimmell turned them over to the grand jury.

"Farmer" Berbecker reports that his East "40" went at the rate of 50 bushels of wheat to the acre. He put one-third of an acre into that cereal and threshed 16 bushels.

Is the devil running the weather this week? We don't need any artificial fire to bake potatoes — just lay them out in the sun.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Luettschwager July 31, a son.

Word has been received in the Heights that Miss Emma Kortan, daughter of Frank Kortan, formerly of Arlington Heights ha dbeen shot twice by Joe Mijdreck after she rejected his suit. He will probably die but the young lady has chances of recovery. He was employed by the Kortans when in the Heights and took up an adjoining claim to the family at Poplar, Mont.

After an engagement of five years, a very pretty wedding occurred Aug. 4 when Miss Ruby Meyer became the bride of Edwin Hitzemann. The reception took place at the home of the bride's parents in Rodenburg. They will make their future home on Bloomingdale ave. and Church st. in Roselle where Mr. Meyer has built a fine residence for them.

Addison — Fred Senne had the misfortune to break his arm while cranking his Ford.

The old settlers of Bloomingdale Township were favored with a delightful day for their annual gathering. The main speaker failed to appear but was not missed. Among some of the old settlers whom the editor met were Mrs. Roland Rathbun who came to Bloomingdale in 1837 and is still a resident; G. W. Barnes of Elgin lived in this

H. D. Brown of California, promoter and builder of the pretentious Arlington Park race track, announced that he had sold his interests in the track. The buyer was A. H. Dressel, Chicago banker. Interested with him in the transaction are said to be a number of wealthy men. The sale is reported to have involved about $1,000,000.

Through the action of the Palatine village board Monday the two road houses on the west boundaries of the village will not be included in the big annexation program that has blown up in smoke. The territory that will be actually annexed to the village is only a fraction of the original plans and extends only north of Chicago ave., on the west to half way between the present corporate limits and Quentins rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taege returned last Friday from a trip to Niagara Falls and neighboring cities.

Mrs. Fred Hinneberg, who has resided in only two homes during her life of over 70 years, died Friday at the Hinneberg homestead on Rohlwing rd. aged 73 years. Caroline Mensching was born in Schaumburg township in 1865 and married Frederich Hinneberg in 1892. She is the last of her family, a twin sister Louise Mensching died two years ago.

Harry Schlenker, a Palatine business man nearly a quarter of a century, passed away July 31. He purchased the harness business of Jacob Herrmann in 1915. When radios appeared on the market he saw their possibilities and was one of the early dealers.

The wedding of Miss Ardath Miller and Mr. Arthur Laurance took place at the Wheeling Presbyterian church July 30.

Tryouts Aug. 11 For Farce

Try-outs for "Wake Up, Darling," second fall production of the Des Plaines Theatre Guild, will be held at 8:30 p.m., August 11, at the Rand Park fieldhouse, 2025 Miner st., Des Plaines.

"Wake Up, Darling," hilarious 3-act comedy which recently played on Broadway, will be produced by the Des Plaines Theatre Guild September 26, 27 and October 3, 4, 10, 11.

It is the second of six plays to be presented by the group during the 1958-59 season, according to James Hughes, production manager. The first show, "No Time for Sergeants," now in rehearsal, will be presented at 8:30 p.m., Sunday night, Sept. 14, at Maine Township high school, as a special benefit for the Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded.

Season tickets for the six Guild productions are available. Information and ticket reservation blanks may be obtained by writing to the ticket chairman, Mrs. Clifford Nelsen, 1681 Campbell ave., Des Plaines. (Bill

Murder-Mystery And Blizzard Lane Offering

Stage show patrons who have been flocking to Squire Bryan's Shady Lane barn theatre this week may sit back easy in their chairs beginning Tuesday next, when a farce comedy replaces the "Mousetrap" mystery show.

Director Louis Tanno reports that next week's stage show will be one of the funniest of the season. It has to do with a New York waitress, who has fallen in love with a personable truck driver, and her mother, who is dead set against "trucking" with truckers.

Ailsa Dawson plays the girl role and Dennis Drew displays his dual ability in piloting a semi job and pitching woo nightly. Ervil Kay Hart, who captivated audiences in "All For Mary," is the belligerent parent. Ann Blager, Roy Monsell, Bob Carlson have supporting roles in the frolic.

"Her Bridal Knight" opens Tuesday and will be played for seven performances scheduled for Saturday evening, at 7 and 10 p.m. daylight time. (Bill

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

by PAUL H. LITTLE

Here's a pleasing stack of new Victor 12-inch platters for your summer listening entertainment. Let's pile them on our Collaro four-speed changer and hear what comes out of our Delta two-way speaker system, an English-made reproducer with realistic sonic quality that proves what we mean by hi-fi sound. First, "Como's Golden Records" (Victor LOP-1007), a program featuring the tunes which Perry Como has sung in past years that have hit the million mark in record sales. This includes "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," "Till the End of Time," "Catch a Falling Star," "Papa Loves Mambo," "Temptation," and "Hot Diggety." All done in the tasteful, expressive Como manner, with fine orchestral backing.

Jan Peerce is usually associated with the "Met" as a classical singer, but he can sing anything beautifully. Proof is "Jan Peerce in Las Vegas with Joe Reisman and His Orchestra" (LPM-1709). This great tenor brings us superbly styled and convincing renditions of "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Bluebird of Happiness," "Around the World," "My Yiddishe Momme" (unforgettably poignant and beautiful), "I Believe" "September Song," and, to round things off with operatic flavor, his own powerful and thrilling way with "Vesti la giubba" from "Pagliacci." Here is one of the finest vocal ips we've heard in many a day!

"Having a Ball with the Three Suns" (LPM-1734) is just that; their inimitable tonal color and rhythm and vitality make for enjoyable listening as they romp through 30 dance-packed songs which include "Linda mujer," "Doll Dance, "I Cried for You," "When You Wore a Tulip," "You Are My Lucky Star" and the jaunty "Hi Lili, Hi-Lo." Done up in hi-fi sound!

Did you hear the disc version of the Broadway smash, "L'il Abner" or maybe see the show? If so, then you know that Peter Palmer played the title role and scored a sensational hit among the show-me Broadway music critics. He's just made his first Victor 12-incher, "Presenting Peter Palmer" with Lehman Engel and his orchestra (LPM-1736), and his songs include "Granada," Younger Than Springtime," "All the Things You Are," "If I Loved You," and "In the Still of the Night." This young man knows how to put a song across without mannerisms or trying too hard, and the result will delight your ears. Engel's fine arrangements contribute a lot of listening joy too.

Background music? Sure thing, and to pick a real pleaser, we nominate Victor LPM-1583, "Music for the Weaker Sex." Henri Rene, whose orchestra is really eloquent in arrangements for strings and smooth, soft brass, had the happy notion of writing twelve musical pictures of famous crooners whom the gals have raved over in the last decade or so; these are (see if you can guess their last names) "Perry," "Frankie," "Harry," 'Pat,' "Dino," "Nat," 'Johnny," "Bing" and "Elvis,' and Benny Carter does a great job on solo sax throughout. Music is very tuneful and does a fine job in helping you identify the singers.

"The Marvellous Miller Medleys" (LOP-1005) is a collector's item, because it features the late Glenn Miller leading both a civilian band and his famous AAF combo; just listen to the way both of these do "Stompin' at the Savoy." The medleys are from his finest arrangements, include such gems as "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "My Melancholy Baby," "Blue Room," "Wang Wang Blues," "You, You, You" and "Blue Champagne." What an arranger and leader Glenn was, and this platter sounds as vital as if he were still alive and waving a stick! Get it!

Victor's budget-priced Camden series ($1.98 per 12-incher) has two splendid "pop" platters for your listening pleasure. One is "Dance Date with Larry Clinton" (CAL-434) which programs "Studies in Scarlet, Red, Blue, Green, and in Modernism," the dynamic "Chant of the Jungle," "Down Home Rag," "Cielito Lindo" and his inimitable version of "Limehouse Blues." Most danceable as regards swingcopation! And there's "Big and Sweet with a Beat" (CAL-443) putting the spotlight on Hugo Winterhalter and his orchestra, a perfect platter for home dancing; tunes include "La Ronde,"

The Way We See It

People's Right To Know What?

Do the people have a right to know?

The Illinois legislature, in the 1957 session, gave this question a resounding "yes" when they enacted into law house bill 699.

Provisions of the law state:

"Section 1. It is the public policy of this state that the public commissions, boards and councils and other public agencies in this state exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business. It is the intent of this act that their actions be taken openly and that their official deliberations be conducted openly.

"Section 2. All official meetings at which any legal action is taken by the governing bodies of the state, counties, townships, cities, villages, incorporated towns, school districts and all other municipal corporations, boards, bureaus or commissions of this state, which are supported in whole or in part by tax revenue, or which expend tax revenue shall be public meetings, except for deliberations for decisions of the Illinois commerce commission and Illinois pardon board, meetings where the acquisition or sale of property is being considered, providing that no other portion of such meetings shall be closed to the public, grand and petit jury sessions and where the constitution provides that a governmental unit can hold secret meetings."

This new law reaffirms a basic right provided by the federal constitution. But posing the original question — do the people have a right to know? — leads directly to another — TO KNOW WHAT?

The "what" is the focal point of a controversy between literal and liberal interpreters of the law.

Did house bill 699 intend to open all functions of government to public scrutiny, specifically, city council committee meetings?

Of the four sponsors of the bill, two have already voiced opinion that the law should be extended to include committee meetings.

From a poll of officials of seven suburban towns — Arlington Heights, Palatine, Mt. Prospect, Wheeling, Elk Grove Village, Rolling Meadows, and Des Plaines — only one favored open city council committee meetings. The opinions of the others varied from a flat no to limited or conditional admittance.

Objections are raised that the presence of "outsiders" might inhibit councilmen from letting down their hair, might disturb the proceedings, and might generally get in the way. Discussions of some matters, such as delicate personnel issues and bids and financial negotiations, should be private, the argument goes.

To this comes the reply that closed meetings could result in policies being formulated in secret and then pushed through the regular council sessions.

It is our opinion that none of these arguments are germain. The fundamental concept of democracy is government of, for, and by the people. A well-informed electorate is essential to the operation and preservation of such a government.

Unless the voters know ALL the issues in government, and know ALL their representatives, the democracy is just a little less.

A free access by a free people is necessary to maintain free government. (FP

State to Crack Down On Bad Driving Slates

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier this week announced the adoption of a point system by the Drivers License Division as an additional and important guide to review officers for possible revocation or suspension action against motorists who have compiled bad driving records.

Point values have been assigned to specific moving traffic violations, and the accumulation of certain totals will indicate revocation of the license or its suspension for varying lengths of time, he said.

SECRETARY Carpentier said the point system will enable review officers to increase uniformity of treatment for motorists with similar records by providing a standard to guide them. He described the Illinois system as the most balanced and thorough in the nation, made possible by the electronic data processing system installed earlier this year.

A total of 34 offenses against the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways and local ordinances are listed with point values ranging from 3 to 110, Secretary Carpentier explained. Offenses such as driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident or others for which revocation is mandatory are listed at 110 points.

The accumulation of 110 or more points within one year will indicate revocation of the license, while suspensions will be indicated for point accumulations ranging from one month for 10 to 20 points within a year to 12 months for 90 to 110 points.

SECRETARY Carpentier said such a detailed breakdown of offenses, points and penalties is made possible by the rapid data assembling capabilities of the electronic system. With that data quickly available to trained review officers for final decision, immediate action can be taken against dangerous drivers, he said.

In addition, any person involved in three reportable traffic accidents within one year, four accidents within 18 months or five accidents within 24 months will be listed for review, and any person under 18 years of age who has been convicted of a second moving traffic violation within a year will be listed for review, Mr. Carpentier said. In the Shadow of the Steeple

Some Observations While Touring Western States

by REV. WILLIAM McGILL

The man-made canyon was not as large as the Grand Canyon, nor as deep, but it was a striking thing to behold. About 350 feet deep, it was several miles long. From where we stood, the freight cars at the bottom of the canyon looked, at the most, as though they were designed for "O" gauge model railroads.

This was one of the open-pit iron mines in Northern Minnesota, near Eveleth. In recent years, the processes of extraction for low-grade ore have been improved. So they just start digging a hole and running the equipment down into it.

MOST PEOPLE ask, how deep is it likely to go, how far back under the town does it go; and the people at the mine answer that they are not sure.

But what happens if it goes back under the town? Well, he said, we'll just have to move the town; that's what they did over at Hibbing a few years ago. We didn't know anything at all about Hibbing, but this sounds like a pretty cold-blooded operation.

Houses, schools, churches are present in a town. People have grown up there, they have seen changes. The old inhabitants remember when this house or that church was built; they remember what used to be on the same site, who owned it, who sold it, how much was paid.

THERE MAY BE days when a village's officers wish it were possible to tear the whole thing down and start over. But there is a big difference between wishing for an opportunity which no one expects to get and facing that same opportunity.

Probably the iron underground is valuable and important; possibly it has more value to the world in general than a few houses and schools and churches have to a few thousand people. Somebody ought to wonder, "When do the needs of the industrial appetite cater to the intangible values of the human spirit?"

We get mightily concerned about the supply of taconite (low grade iron ore) in the upper peninsula, or about the supply of bauxite (low grade aluminum ore) in the central south, or about the coal in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. Great holes are dug to meet the ever-increasing demand for steel and aluminum and coal to transform the ore into the finished metal.

A GENERATION ago, the CIO won recognition by its fight for the dignity and the conservation of the human resources which went into mining and manufacturing of products for mass industry. Who today is speaking for the social resources which are likely to be sacrificed to this development?

Perhaps United States Steel who owns the mine we looked at, and the State of Minnesota and the people of the community are already making plans against the day when it may be necessary to move the city and decide what to do about this man-made canyon.

The man who was stationed at the look-out to answer questions could tell everyone about the processes of extraction, about where the ore was sent, how it was loaded onto the lake ships.

But he probably was not stationed there to answer the musings of people who were wondering about human values in the transitions that appear to be coming. (FP

Nothing but Parks

Discussing park districts, may I suggest—Mr. Robertson—If and when your town (Rolling Meadows), gets a park that you have it in writing that it is to "be a park" and nothing more.

Land which had been given to our town for a park is now school grounds, playgrounds, parking lot, circus ground, bicycle racing grounds and now and then a bridle path.

It would have made a lovely park if the trees had been left. Sure they were only cottonwoods, but the dead ones could have been removed—the stronger ones left until new trees had taken hold and walks and flower beds added. Now we have weeds and mud-ball diamonds in each corner but one—and the crude language one hears is not so much from the adult teams who play but from the under-teen age groups.

Yes, I'm prejudiced, cause this all backs up to our rear line. So make sure your park becomes a park for everyone to enjoy—to stroll in, to see beauty in flowers and trees; to meditate in quietly and to take:

"The kiss of the sun for pardon
The song of the birds for mirth
One is nearer God's heart
In a garden or park than anyhere else on earth."

Drainage Meeting

We wish to thank Mr. Paddock and Mr. Brennan for their part in arranging and participating in the meeting of July 24th between the Forestview Citizen's Committee, interested people in the community and the various agencies in Cook county.

Since this meeting, our committee has been able to consider the information provided us and feel we have a more complete picture of the drainage and sanitary problems in Cook county. Also, as a result of the meeting, we feel we may now take specific corrective steps in order to eventually solve the drainage and sanitary problems of our community.

We do sincerely appreciate the interest and cooperation you have shown us and hope this relationship might continue while we proceed to work on a solution to these problems.

'Jungle' Eyesore

You recently had a picture in your paper of the property at 305 S. Barron st., Bensenville, and called it a "jungle."

A neighbor sent me this picture — it does look bad — the property belongs to my mother, Mrs. Mary Goetter, who is in Elgin State hospital with hardening of the arteries to the brain and my step-father went to St. Louis to his children — he is very senile, too, and is 83.

The property always was kept nice and we always went to see them and picked the fruit and canned it. But now the property belongs to the state. It can't be sold until they both die and then the money goes in escrow for my mother's hospital care.

I thought I would write you and maybe you can do something about it. It really is an eyesore for the neighborhood, but it no longer is ours.

I recently received a letter from the department of public welfare, 401 S. Spring st., Springfield. They just want to know if we collect rent on the property. All they want is the money, so I sent them the picture you printed and told them since it is their property they should take care of it.

I just thought I would let you people know.

The property is paid up to this year. The taxes were paid by us and my stepbrother, which wouldn't even have been necessary because all along the state owned it.

Mrs. M. Miller

Tollway Ugliness

We have read with interest your article in the Thursday, July 3 issue, entitled "Is Tollway's Ugliness Really Only Temporary."

While you did not have a picture of our plant but did mention it as being on Busse road adjoining the light industrial area, we thought it well to call your attenion to our efforts to cooperate with the residents in the area and to conduct ourselves as a good citizen of the community.

There is no need for any asphalt plant to send out "clouds of smoke and dust" which are extremely objectionable to the residents in the area where the wind may carry the dirt.

We have expended over $15,000 to remove the dust and fumes from the air and we would personally like to escort you to our plant and show you how an asphalt plant can be operated without causing any ill effects on the local residents.

Plants such as ours with the installation we have made, are in present operation in the city of Los Angeles, where as you know smog and dust control ordinances are very rigid.

We are proud to state that our operation on Busse Road is so clean that when the plant is in operation, it is impossible actually to tell the plant is in production.

Adoo About Cats

A lot of people make a lot of adoo over nothing (cats). A cat is considered a predator and therefore should be on the open season list—in town and out. This silly talk in last week's Fence Post regarding children being shot is a lot of hog wash. There is much more hazard from automobiles than from a stray bullet here and there. The way people out here let their brood run wild it seems as if they wouldn't miss one once in a while. Another gem thought up by an egghead was that a bell would also warn the rats and mice. Our Policemen wear uniforms and they catch criminals—a cat is a criminal. Those people from Itasca and Roselle better stay where they are at and take care of their hometowns. We have enough busy-bodies out here.

Another remark about the Sack Treatment. This is most humane. All you do is put the beast in a tightly woven sack and attach to auto exhaust. "Presto" the beast is dead and can do no more harm. If our councilmen were not so stupid they would have passed a bill long ago making unlicensed cats without bells, outlaws.

Mrs. Johnson. you now have a helper on the south side of our city.

High School Sites

The exchange of commentaries in the Fence Post section of this newspaper for July 24 and July 31 has produced information of benefit to taxpayers in high school district 214.

We are indeed indebted to Paddock Publications and to the president of the board of education, who has at great length, outlined the reasons for the board's recommendation for the purchase of additional High School lands.

The 119 acres of land now the property of district 214 is sufficient to accommodate six high school plants of the size of the original plant which is located at Euclid and Ridge ave. and which comprises 19 acres.

When additional classrooms and other facilities become necessary, the taxpaying public will no doubt be given an opportunity to assist in planning for location and construction thereof, in the same manner as that employed when the original high school plant was expanded. The type of architecture and recreational or athletic areas can be considered at that time.

In the meantime land purchased and held strictly for high school expansion purposes, will relatively reduce the areas available for residential use and thereby will assist in reducing the potential school population. Possibly the purchase of lands by civic and municipal bodies or business enterprises would be of assistance also.

It is hoped that the high school authorities will be able soon to follow the example of the elementary schools by a tax cut, which will be very much appreciated.

Thank you, Paddock Publications, Inc., and the board of education, high school district 214, for your cooperation and assistance.

A Taxpayer for Many Years,
Arlington Heights.

Mineral Water Sparks Fresh 'Boom' at Spas of France

by BILL DILLINGHAM

The spas of France are enjoying a boom. Mineral water has recently become the national medicine of Frenchmen.

Each spa caters to a particular disease. The one at Aix-les-Bains, for instance, specializes in rheumatism. Vichy and Vittel share the liver department. Chatel-Guyon has almost a monopoly on patients with intestinal disorders, while nearby Mont-Dore takes care of asthma. Each spa has its piece of the medical cake, and infringements rarely take place. Royat specializes in heart ailments and Roche-Posay in skin disorders.

AT DAX NEAR Biarritz there are hot mud baths containing chemical salts having a beneficial effect on bone composition. It is current belief among the French that regardless of one's ailment, there is a spa in the country remedying that particular disorder.

At Aix-les-Bains the Thermal Establishment sells water in graduated glasses, served by attendants in white uniforms. One sees swarms of people in bathrobes limping and hobbling about. If one doesn't wish to pay for this special water it can be obtained free at the fountain in the local square.

At Chatel-Guyon, however, the water is said to be dangerous if consumed without medical control. Therefore, the faucets are locked outside of drinking hours.

IN FORMER days these spas were frequented only by royalty and the well-to-do. The French National Health Service has changed all that.

Under the "Assurances Cociales" almost anybody can obtain thermal benefits. His case need only be approved by his own doctor and then a special medical board. After that, he travels free via third-class coach to the watering-place, gets free treatment at the spa and is given an allowance by the State to take the sting out of his hotel expenses.

Last year about 50,000 people were treated at Aix-les-Bains and proportionate numbers at the other main French spas. Vichy was especially busy because it remedies liver trouble, considered the French national disease.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

Cousins' Visit No Secret

Dear Peg:

It was impossible to keep secret the fact that Dottie and Debbie would be coming with "Nana" and Aunt Dot—I would love to have surprised Megan and Bridget, but those rascals could tell something was up just from the guarded telephone conversations I had with mother. Dottie and Debbie, my brother's two children, are the favorite cousins from Indianapolis and the playmates who Megan and Bridget look forward to spending a couple of weeks with each summer.

The plan was for the girls to come here for four or five days and then Megan and Bridget would go to Indianapolis with them for awhile. Although I continued to tell Megan and Bridget that I wasn't sure whether Dottie and Debbie would be coming with Nana and Aunt Dot, they ignored me and insisted on putting on their best shorts and matching shirts Tuesday and after lunch took up their vigil on the step outside the front door. I expected them to arrive about 2 o'clock, but due to a flat tire which occurred near Lafayette, the big grey car with the Indiana license plates came slowly around the corner of Briarwood pl. about 3:30.

The girls came flying across the street from Susie's house, where they had been waiting for the past hour, shouting, "Nana's here, Nana's here and so are Aunt Dot and Dottie and Debbie." They fell into each other's arms and after an It's-been-such-a-long-time-since-I've-seen-you-embrace, they raced into the house to see Megan and Bridget's new home and to talk about where each was to sleep that night—This always seems to be the most important decision when children get together for a couple of days. Since the space for four extra people is rather limited in our house, there was little choice, in fact the "choice" had already been made by "mama" for the most comfort for the most people. No objections, however, since the four girls had been put together or at least close range.

We were so fortunate to have beautiful sunny weather Wednesday and Thursday so that the entire day each day was picnic. Friday I thought we had had enough beach for a day or so and I suggested going to Brookfield zoo. This delighted the girls, so Friday morning we started out, having left Patrick and Joseph with Mrs. Conder.

It took us a little longer than it should have to get there because I wasn't quite sure of the way—in fact, I was sort of feeling my way, and went a little too far west. A stop and inquiry at a filling station got us back on the right track and we arrived shortly and just in time for lunch. The grounds at Brookfield zoo are not beautifully laid out, but very nicely kept. We ate on the pavilion facing the fountain and small lagoon in the middle of the zoo grounds.

The children's zoo was our first stop, where all the baby animals could be seen and petted at close range. Of all the animals, the reptiles seem to intrigue children the most. Despite their "ughs" and squeals, they didn't miss one snake or Gila monster. The day was lots of fun for all of them and the nice part was that instead of saying goodbye the following day, they would all be going back to Indianapolis together—with the exception of Aunt Dot, who had agreed to stay with me to take care of Patrick and Joseph while I spent a little time in the hospital.

Monday I shall go in for a minor operation so will probably be writing to you from there.

Bye for now.

My love,
Patty.

Ann Niedbalski Weds Herbert Goudie June 7

(Bak Studio

After a 3-week wedding trip to Las Vegas, Houston and St. Joseph, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goudie are residing at 1615 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Niedbalski. The bride is the former Ann Niedbalski. Mr. Goudie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goudie, 335 W. Glade, Palatine.

The couple was married June 7 in Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, with the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara officiating. The double ring ceremony took place at noon amid a setting of white gladioli and pink and white carnations.

A WHITE SILK organza dress, fashioned with chapel train, was chosen by the bride for her marriage. It was made with Italian embroidery trimming the bodice and butterfly bow. She wore matching gauntlets and a scalloped cap, trimmed with sequins, to hold her fingertip veil in place. Rubrum lilies, stephanotis and lily of the valley mounted on a lace fan made up her bridal bouquet. Mr. Niedbalski gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Margaret Romei of Addison was matron of honor and wore an aqua lace sheath dress with overskirt, cummerbund and back flounce of pure silk organza. Her flowers were flame-colored glamellias in a crescent.

Quite Contrary by Mary

The Better Part of Valor...

I thought I had done about everything but I hadn't. I hadn't gone native but I have now, you bet. Maybe there is no such thing as a bleached blond native but there is now and I'm it.

When this neighborhood decides to do something, it does it up with pink ribbons and tinsel. So, we were all going to a luau which is Hawaiian for let's eat, drink, hula and be merry as all get out. The announcement said that we were supposed to dress casually and then in parentheses it did sort of mention that we could go native.

Well, my dear, that was all we needed here in madhouse row. We went native. In fact, we went more native than even natives go. I just happened to have handy several hundred grass skirts that one of my more fortunate relatives had brought back from a Honolulu vacation. Well, there were four skirts and a sarong.

So my friends glommed onto the grass leaving me the sarong which is just what I have always thought was my style anyway. From there in we all innovated like crazy and ended up with some of the strangest outfits ever seen in this hemisphere. Thanks to the inventors of crepe paper, leis were more or less abundant.

Thanks to the inventors of the dime store, there was quite a nice lot of paper flowers too. There were paper flowers on hairs, halters and ankles. And we were all too lovely to behold and our husbands, who had bowed to fate by donning wild shirts and Bermuda shorts, hated the sight of us.

As we slunk, slithered and slid into the cars to be transported to the place of merriment, they said as how we looked just swell and would we mind very much if they all pretended they didn't know us.

As it all turned out, they were right and I wouldn't have admitted that I knew us either. All the other women had on perfectly sweet little dance frocks chastely decorated with one lei which they got free at the door. As we jazzed in swishing our grass skirts and false flowers, the fellas sort of disappeared and left us to take the barrage of stares right on our false flowers.

We took a rather inconspicuous table and stayed there. Discretion is the better part of valor. But we sure were colorful. And native.

Here's Exciting Menu For a Tempting Buffet

by LOIS SEILER

Elegant hot chicken sandwiches accompanied by relishes and topped off by a luscious Blitz Torte for dessert, would indeed make a tempting buffet supper!

These two excellent recipes have been shared with us by Mrs. Paul A. Berg, who has often served these savory chicken sandwiches at a luncheon or late evening supper. The Blitz Torte recipe is a tried and true hand-me-down, which has been in her family for 80 years.

The sandwiches are composed of meat from chicken breasts placed on buttered toast and topped by slices of sharp cheese and tomatoes. They are baked in a rich mushroom sauce and served garnished with sprigs of parsley.

ONLY RELISHES are needed to complement these hearty, delicious chicken sandwiches, which always make a big hit with menfolks as well as women.

Mrs. Berg's delightful Blitz Torte is appealing to the eye as well as the palate.

A gold cake, it has a top and bottom layer of meringue and a creamy custard filling.

For added elegance, it may be covered with whipped cream or strawberries or a combination of both.

"This torte always turns out well," reports Mrs. Berg, and she has many requests for this dessert specialty.

GOOD WILL chairman for the Mt. Prospect Women's club, Mrs. Berg also enjoys playing bridge for recreation.

The Bergs live at 122 S. Wille in Mt. Prospect. They have a daughter, Kathy, who is a high school senior.

Hot Chicken Sandwiches

6 slices buttered toast
3 breasts of chicken, cooked
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
¼ cup butter
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup chicken broth
½ cup cream
6 tomato slices
6 slices sharp cheese

Place toast in a shallow, heatproof baking dish. Top with one-half chicken breast which has been boned and left in large pieces.

To make the sauce, saute mushrooms in butter for five minutes. Blend in flour and salt.

Gradually add the broth and cream and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth.

Pour sauce over sandwiches. Top each with a slice of cheese and a tomato slice.

Bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. Garnish with springs of parsley.

Blitz Torte

½ cup sugar
4 egg yolks, beaten
6 tablespoons milk
1 cup cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

Cream butter and gradually add sugar. Add beaten egg yolks.

Sift baking powder and flour together and add to batter alternately with the milk.

Pour batter into two buttered, paper-lined 9-inch layer cake tins. Prepare the meringue.

4 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat whites until stiff. Gradually add sugar and vanilla, beating constantly.

Divide meringue into two parts and spread over batter in cake tins.

Chopped or slivered almonds or pecans may be sprinkled over meringue, if desired.

Bake in a slow oven, 300 to 325 degrees, being careful not to scorch meringue, 30 to 45 minutes.

Remove from oven and cool. Prepare the following custard filling:

1 cup sweet milk
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ to ¾ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg slightly. Blend in milk. Add sugar and cornstarch and cook until thick. Blend in vanilla. Let filling cool.

Remove one cake from tin and place meringue side down on cake plate. Spread with custard filling and top with the other layer, meringue side up.

The torte may be covered with whipped cream or strawberries or a combination of both.

Genuine Antique Is Asset to Home

by JOAN ROGERS

Do you own and enjoy an heirloom?

It could be an antique chair handed down from generation to generation in your family, a venerable old music stand, or a treasurer and genuine Early American rocker.

If you do own an heirloom, a team of horses probably couldn't haul it away from you. And right you are. A genuine antique or heirloom in your living or dining room provides a mark of distinction for your home, particularly if it is highlighted by your other furniture.

THE HEIRLOOM has a definite place in the well-furnished home, but it may not be for sitting. If it's only for looking at, admiring, and showing off to guests, your other furniture should supply comfort, utility, and relaxation.

This is an important distinction. It has a great deal to do with the sense of values used in furnishing the home.

There's all the difference in the world between an old chair that's uncomfortable to sit in, and a well-cared for heirloom that's for show. The genuine heirloom can show off other furniture to great advantage, but sitting on a living room full of "heirlooms" may ruin the good effect—and destroy comfort.

The thing to do is begin weeding out old furniture that's uncomfortable or no longer attractive. An interesting way to do it is by time testing. Note the date you bought or acquired each item of furniture in your home.

IF YOU BOUGHT or acquired good items that are 50 to 85 years old and still in good condition, you own a genuine heirloom collection. But any items bought 10 or 15 years ago are just old furniture. Your time test may pinpoint that vague feeling of dissatisfaction all good homemakers have when their furnishings get out of date.

The results of the time test can well provide the basis for letting your own personality show in the selection of up-to-date, twentieth century furniture.

ELEGANT BUT INFORMAL dining in the living room is fast becoming an American way of life and thanks to new table accessories, it is possible to elaborate on meals served away from the facilities of the dining room. Viking, a 3-way porcelain recently arrived from Denmark, is an ideal contribution to the "dinner party on wheels." Despite its eggshell delicacy, it is completely flameproof and can withstand open-flame as well as oven cooking. Among other European imports that combine beauty with practicality is stainless steel flatware, which has a rich lustre that requires no polishing or special care of any kind. It blends with traditional, modern or contemporary table accessories. These imports are available at Dirigo Fine Table Appointments, 170 N. Milwaukee, Wheeling.

Hay Pellets Show Promise For Feeding to Steers

Steers fed only average-quality Illinois mixed hay would usually be considered to have "slim pickin's."

But when this kind of hay was pelleted and fed as the only feed, steers on test at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station gained up to 1¾ pounds a day.

PELLETING hay is the same process of compressing feed into small, bite-sized bits that has been used for years in preparing supplements and complete feeds. University of Illinois research workers have done some of the pioneer work on pelleting hay under the direction of Superintendent R. J. Webb at the Station.

The lot of steers reported above gained 1.73 pounds a day on pelleted hay compared with only .63 pound a day for a similar lot of steers fed the same hay baled. This hay was 2/3 alfalfa and 2/3 timothy of low-quality roughage more than high-quality roughage. That is, it will pay a feeder more to pellet an alfalfa-timothy combination as the percentage of the timothy increases and the percentage of the alfalfa drops.

CATTLE FEEDERS may ask whether the increase in gains will pay the cost of pelleting. When the Illinois workers figured the cost of pelleted hay at $30 a ton, the cost of gains was less than 14 cents a pound on the steers gaining about 1¾ pounds a day. The steers fed baled hay figured at $20 a ton were making their gain of about 2/3 pound a day at a cost of more than 17 cents a pound. Costs and gains were about the same with chopped and baled hay.

The next big step in pelleting is up to machinery and equipment manufacturers, Webb says. Several companies are now working on the problem. The need is for a practical machine or machines to fit into a farmer's or small custom operator's plan of operation and at a cost he can afford. As equipment is improved and costs come down, pelleting would appear to show great promise.

Down on the Farm

SOMETIMES THINGS ARE PUZZLING

I have used repeated applications of 2,4-D Amine type spray to kill chickweed in my lawn. I sprayed again last week to get some plants that I had missed on previous applications. One of those hot days came right after I sprayed. Results! I killed the chickweed and my Merion Bluegrass is all brown and looks like it will die.

Why? — I don't really know unless I applied too much 2,4-D per 1000 square feet. It was heavier than recommended, but I didn't think heavy enough to kill grass. In fact, I didn't know it would kill grass at all. Lesson I learned: — In using sprays follow instructions carefully. I am now trying to revive the bluegrass with an application of fertilizer.

ANOTHER PUZZLER

When Dr. John Pendleton was discussing oat varieties at a recent field meet, he said the Clarion was the only variety standing when they were ready to combine. It may not have rust resistance, but it certainly has standability.

It will be interesting to compare the yields of the different varieties. Of course this year we had no rust. Our recommendation may be to plant Clarion when we don't have a favorable season for rust. How do we know when that will be? We don't. This is what makes farming such a hazardous occupation.

IN SOME AREAS leaching of nitrogen from the soil is a common occurrence during extremely wet weather. If this happens, to you, apply additional nitrogen. One pound of straight nitrogen per 1,000 square feet or 40 pounds per acre.

The most common disease of soybeans this season is bacterial blight. It is a leaf spot disease that first appears as dark brown angular spots, frequently with a water soaked margin around the individual spots. Early infections usually show a yellow halo around the small brown center lesion. Badly infected leaves often become torn and shredded by the combined action of the blight, wind and rain. Yellowing of the affected leaves may sometimes accompany severe infection. Hawkeyes appear to suffer less than some other varieties. Harosoy have about the same degree of resistance.

Supplies of Five Major Crops at Record Highs

by L. H. SIMERL

Supplies of five major crops on July 1 were at new record highs. These crops were corn, wheat, sorghum grain, barley and soybeans.

Stocks of corn were officially estimated at 2,090 million bushels, which was 123 million, or 6 per cent, more than the previous record for July set the year before. These stocks are equal to two-thirds of the crop harvested for grain last fall. It now appears likely that the carry-over of corn next Oct. 1 will be about 1,500 million bushels, up to 7 per cent from the record high last October.

STOCKS OF free corn (not owned by CCC or under price support) appeared to be a little over 600 million bushels, perhaps 25 million more than a year earlier. Furthermore, a large part of the corn under the low ($1.10) loan — 139 million bushels — may be redeemed and sold if prices remain substantially above the loan level. On the other hand, the tighter CCC sales policy this year reduces price-depressing forces. CCC can now exert a considerable amount of influence on the price of corn by accepting or rejecting bids submitted under the payment-in-kind export program.

The supply of wheat for the 1958-59 marketing year will be around 2,225 million bushels, about 20 per cent more than last year and 10 per cent more than the previous record supply of two years ago. The carry-over of old wheat on July 1 was estimated at 881 million bushels, 3 per cent less than last year and 14 per cent less than the record high of two years earlier. The new crop was estimated at 1,343 million bushels, 42 per cent more than last year and only one per cent short of the record crop produced in 1947.

PRICES OF WHEAT have held up better than some market observers expected and have been higher than usual in relation to the price support level. This suggests that the seasonal price rise this year may be less than usual.

Stocks of sorghum grains on July 1 were 318 million bushels, over three times as much as the year before and almost three times the amount on hand two years ago. These are the only years of record. About one-half of the sorghum grain on hand July 1 was under price support loans.

Carry-over of barley on July 1 totaled 169 million bushels, about one-third more than carry-overs of the past three years, each of which was at or near the record high. The new crop was forecast at 423 million bushels, only three per cent off the record crop harvested last year.

STOCKS OF SOYBEANS on July 1 were estimated at 107 million bushels. This was nearly one-fourth more than stocks of the year before, the previous record high. Rate of use is also at a record high, and carry-over next October 1 will be small, probably only 15 or 20 million bushels. Such a carry-over would be only three per cent of the 1957 crop; last year it was only 10 million bushels.

The first official estimate of the new crop will be released on August 9. The acreage now growing is about 13 per cent larger than last year, but recent rainy weather has not been the best for bean production.

Plants Suffer From Galls Too

Plants, just like some people, have galls too.

These plant galls are warts, bumps or abnormal knots commonly seen on the leaves, twigs or branches of trees and shrubs. The more common galls are cork-like outgrowths. They are the result of abnormal cell growth stimulated by various kinds of insects and mites. But fungi, bacteria and nematodes also cause plant galls.

Galls do not indicate that the plant is "diseased" and likely to die, points out L. L. English, Illinois Natural History Survey entomologist. Gall damage is localized and generally does not cause enough injury to trees and shrubs to justify spraying.

A small family of wasps known as the Cynipidae cause galls on oaks. Eggs deposited on developing buds or shoots hatch into legless grubs that cause the galls to develop. The galls serve as food and living quarters where the grubs grow and pupate. The wasps desert the galls when they become adults.

Each kind of insect and mite has a different life cycle and produces a different kind of gall. Small mites stimulate formation of the maple bladder gall. These mites overwinter under the bud scales and migrate to the leaves when they develop in the spring.

Expert Tells Good Pruning Methods

It takes more than good intentions to take care of even the small trees on the home property. Good Pruning tools are a must, and the kit required is not inconsiderable.

The reliable pruning saw is Number One on the pruning kit parade, says R. J. McWilliams, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. And this is not just any saw. The best pruning tool is one with teeth on only one side. Double-edged saws are more difficult to handle. In the hands of the amateur, they may cut in directions not intended.

First line of defense for fruit trees and deciduous shrubbery is said to be the hand pruner. This comes in two types — the snap cut or draw cut. You can suit yourself as to which to select since each will work efficiently, if of good quality.

Few weekend gardeners wield a professional type long-handled pole pruner, but this instrument will be a boon to the more ambitious. It requires adroit use and should be of the type that has tempered blades that make clean, smooth cuts. These are the only kind to be considered if the unkindest cuts of all are to be spared your tree.

One of the tools most often overlooked is the pot that holds the special tree paint. All wounds one inch or more in diameter should be waterproofed.

Artificial Breeding May Be Answer

An artificial breeding program might be the answer for small dairy herd owners who are not able to keep bulls long enough to make sure of their production transmitting ability.

Although a good transmitting bull can make rapid increases in the production level of a dairy herd, a poor bull may decrease production just as rapidly, reports L. R. Fryman, University of Illinois dairy specialist.

Fryman says two good transmitting bulls were largely responsible for a jump of 111 pounds of butter fat per cow per year in a Lake county dairy herd.

Daughters of one of the bulls produced 64 pounds more butterfat than their dams and those of the other bull produced 90 pounds more than their dams.

Unfortunately both bulls were butchered before their true value was known, since this producer, like many other small herd owners, was not able to keep the bulls long enough to learn their true value.

It is also possible for poor bulls to lower herd averages just as quickly as these two bulls increased it.

Consequently, says Fryman, small herd owners could probably greatly reduce their risks if they would use several bulls through an artificial breeding unit.

QUALITY

Most of our recent sales of new and fine guaranteed used cars have been to folks that know us and have bought from us before.

Perhaps you would like an honest deal from an organization that has not in its 31 years of business resorted to tricks and gimmicks to make sales.

We need you and would certainly like to add you to our many customer friends. You will not be insulted with high pressure, as we cannot afford to place future business in jeopardy with unpleasant sales tactics.

Sunglasses For Cows Not Likely

Fitting cattle with sunglasses might be the one way to reduce damage from pinkeye, says Dr. J. R. Pickard of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

Since this suggestion is impractical, Dr. Pickard continues, the best plan is to provide darkened shelter during the day.

Total blindness can be prevented by starting treatment as soon as the first signs of pinkeye are noticed. First sign is a weeping discharge, followed by a grayish discoloration of the eyeball. Affected cattle show evidence of pain, especially when in strong sunlight and lose weight rapidly.

Young calves with pinkeye may not be able to follow their mothers around the pasture. Animals that are temporarily blinded may injure themselves. Also, cattle with advanced pinkeye cannot graze efficiently.

There are no specific vaccines, bacterins or serums to prevent pinkeye. Veterinarians treat the disease medically. Permanent damage to eyes of the cattle can be avoided by daily treatment in the early stages, says Dr. Pickard.

BENSENVILLE Farmer Wallace Boesche was on the Chiagco hog market last week where he sold 22 butchers. The hogs averaged 225 pounds and sold at $23.00 per cwt. Boesche finishes 100 hogs each year on his 80-acre truck farm.

Special Tollway Police Organized

Formation of a special tollway detachment of the Illinois State Police to patrol the new 187-mile Illinois Tollway was announced here last week by the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission.

Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the commission, said that the detachment consists of 67 hand-picked police especially trained in the policing of limited access expressways.

"All costs of the tollway police detachment are borne by the commission under the terms of an agreement with the Department of Public Safety of the State of Illinois," Dearing said.

CAPTAIN ALBERT S. Hinds, commanding officer of the new detachment, said that approximately 60 per cent of the tollway patrol consists of police veterans who volunteered for the special assignment.

"Competition for the tollway police detachment was so keen that only 27 rookies were accepted to join the 40 veteran officers who volunteered," Hinds said.

In addition to the extensive training received at the Illinois State Police Training Academy, all of the men attended a special two-week school held at Northwestern University Traffic Institute to acquaint them with the aspects of policing high speed limited access expressways.

First duties of the tollway detachment will be to patrol the 76-mile Northwest Tollway from O'Hare Airport to South Beloit opening on August 20, and the 30-mile section of the Tri-State Tollway from Edens Expressway to Route 41 at the Wisconsin line opening shortly after. (B12

Tollway Construction Hits $1 Million-Day Schedule

Construction activity on the 187-mile Illinois Tollway has reached a peak of $1,000,000 a day according to Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission.

"With the opening of the 76-mile Northwest Tollway from O'Hare Airport to South Beloit on August 20 only a few weeks ago, many contractors are working 20 hours a day to complete the tollway on schedule," Dearing said.

GEORGE L. JACKSON, chief engineer of the commission, said that contractors have just finished a 90-day period in which 114 bridges were completed, 53 miles paved, and 11 million cubic yards of earth moved into place. A total of 128½ miles of 4-lane and 6-lane pavements are now in place.

"By January 1, 1959, the entire Illinois Tollway will be open to the public," Dearing said. "This is less than 28 months after ground was broken."

George F. Noble, project manager for Joseph K. Knoerle & Associates, Inc., consulting engineers to the commission, reported that contractors are expected to earn $27,000,000 for work performed in August.

Noble said that this would top the previous record set by the Illinois Tollway's contractors last October when $25,500,000 was earned in what is believed to be a record month for any single construction project of this type.

"Contractors are paying more than $2,000,000 each week in wages to the 18,000 persons directly engaged in the construction of the Illinois Tollway," Noble said.

THE OPENING of the Northwest Tollway on August 20 will be followed shortly by the opening of the 30-mile section of the Tri-State Tollway from a direct connection with Edens Expressway north to a connection with U.S. 41 at the Wisconsin line. The rest of the tollway consisting of the Tri-State "belt" tollway around Chicago from Wisconsin to Indiana and the East-West Tollway from the Congress Street Expressway to Aurora will be opened by the end of the year.

The entire 187-mile tollway is integrated with Chicago's present and proposed expressway system which will ultimately provide a complete network of expressways for this metropolitan area and all of northern Illinois. (B12

Scott's Record shop is in the process of adding a new line to their inventory that will prove to be a valuable aid to the residents of the area, both adults and children alike.

A complete stationery line will be handled by Scotts in the near future. They hope to have all of the supplies necessary for the grade school, high school and college students of the area, by the time that classes begin this fall.

NOT ONLY WILL they handle all of the basic stationery and office supply needs but they plan to obtain a line of personalized papers of all kinds.

One of the outstanding features of this beautiful shop is the High Fidelity room that they are in the process of equipping. Here interested customers will be able to view the Mathes line of high fidelity equipment which is being handled by this shop.

At the present time they have a representative collection which includes a solid maple set, styled in early American styling that could be used in any room in your house. The recording equipment is so cleverly concealed that it is hard to realize that this is not a small buffet or bachelor's chest. They have many styles in mahogany and their collection of record players begins with childrens portables on up to the Stero sound sets, which are the ultra of high fidelity equipment.

ALL OF THE major recording companies are represented by the selections at the Scotts Record shop in your Prospect Heights shopping center. They are all on display and the easy access record bins makes it fun to browse and select your records at your own leisure. Whether its classical music or rock and roll you will be sure to find an outstanding selection at Scotts Records.

Their paper goods department has a large selection of cocktail napkins, coasters, napkins, plates and various other paper products available. You might be looking for just the right thing to make your entertaining simple as well as handsome and the latest paper products solve both of these problems.

Greeting cards are always welcome, no matter what the occasion. Scotts has a large selection of the very popular contemporary cards and they are receiving a number of new lines at the present time. Of course they handle a complete selection of standard greeting cards for all occasions and an especially fine selection of cards for children.

THERE IS something new in the donut world these days. The Dietz Village Bakery has recently added a banana donut to their bakery that is made of a banana flavored dough and frosted with banana frosting.

You can't send one of your children out for a loaf of bread anymore — certainly not if you select your bread at the Village Bakery. Here they have a selection of breads that numbers close to 30. There is a bread for every taste and for every occasion here.

In the white bread line they have such things as alligator, butter crust, homemade, French and Vienna while in the Rye bread line you might select from regular rye, Milwaukee rye, Danish, pan or cocktail rye. If your tastes run more towards the sweet breads such items as date and nut, raisin and cinnamon should suit your fancy.

Social Security Wage Records Need Checking

"You can have peace of mind about your social security record for the price of a postage stamp" according to Julius Berman, northwest district manager of the Social Security Administration.

"You merely have to send a special postcard to the Social Security Administration in order to get an official statement of the wages that have been credited to your account" he explained. This special postcard can be obtained from any Social Security district office.

Berman recommends that workers check their social security earnings records at least once every three years. It is easier to correct the record now than later if it is wrong.

Retirement, disability and survivors benefits are based on a worker's earnings record. "It's up to you to protect your social security rights, and the rights of your dependents, by making sure that your earnings record is complete" said Berman.

The Northwest District Office of the Social Security Administration is located at 4255 North Milwaukee ave., Chicago 41, Ill.

DuPage County residents are served by the district office at 1120 Westgate ave., Oak Park.
